AMERICAN CANNON TO BACK UP DEMAND FOR PUNISHMENT OF ASSASSINS AT BEIRUT

LIVES OF AMERICAN CITIZENS IN DANGER AT HARPUT

Attempt Made to Burn the Mission College—Leishman Receives Instructions to Act Vigorously at Constantinople.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.

Turkey must make immediate reparation for the assassination of Vice Consul Magelssen. The European squadron has been ordered to Beirut, Syria, by President Roosevelt, to back up with force, if necessary, the demand that will in the meantime be made upon the sultan at Constantinople.

United States Consul William C. Magelssen was assassinated at Beirut, Turkey, last Sunday evening under circumstances yet unknown to this government. An attempt has been made to burn the Euphrates American Missionary college at Harput, Turkey.

These are the developments of today which may possibly draw the United States into the Turkish crisis, although with the sparse information now obtainable, these events cannot be included in the same category as the trouble in the Balkans.

Acting Secretary of the Navy Darling received instructions tonight from President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay to order Rear Admiral Cotton, commanding the European squadron, to proceed at once to Beirut, Syria. Mr. Darling at once sent orders to Admiral Cotton at Nice. He will depart as soon as possible, although it may be necessary to spend a little time in coaling.

Cotton is Nearly Ready.

This cable, received by Acting Secretary Darling from Admiral Cotton, tells briefly the condition of the squadron for the trip:

"Cable just received. Machias at Genoa for coal. Brooklyn has seven days and San Francisco six and a half days coal at 10 knots an hour. Cannot exceed that speed with Machias. If squadron going west should coal at Marseilles, if east at Genoa."

No instructions have been sent to Admiral Cotton as to what he shall do when he reaches Beirut. It is expected that the trip can be made in six days. Admiral Cotton will doubtless receive further instructions as he moves eastward.

The general purpose of sending the squadron to Beirut is to lend force to the demands the United States may make on Turkey and to back up representations that reparation must be made for the assassination of Vice Consul Magelssen.

Acting Secretary Loomis at 11 o'clock tonight received a cablegram from Minister Leishman at Constantinople, stating that Mr. Leishman had called on the Turkish minister of foreign affairs to inquire into details of the assassination of Vice Consul Magelssen, but was informed that the Turkish foreign office had no confirmation of the report of the murder and denied the truth of the story.

Will Not Change Order.

Inasmuch as the state department news of the murder came from Consul Ravndal through Minister Leishman, the state department believes the Turkish government is not in touch with the situation at Beirut. The state department does not attach sufficient importance to the dispatch to even consider changing the order to the squadron.

When Acting Secretary of State Loomis arrived at the department this morning he found awaiting him a cablegram from United States Minister Leishman at Constantinople, dated Wednesday, August 26, stating that he had just received from United States Consul G. B. Ravndal at Beirut the news that Vice Consul Magelssen was shot and killed while riding in a carriage Sunday evening. Minister Leishman said he was seeking further details and that he could not explain the delay in the transmission of the news to Constantinople from Beirut.

Acting Secretary Loomis at once sent a copy of this cablegram to President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay. Then he cabled Minister Leishman to demand of the Turkish government the prompt investigation of the crime, the arrest and punishment of the guilty, and to advise the state department of details of the assassination as soon as possible.

COTTON'S SQUADRON NOW ON THE WAY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Acting Secretary of the Navy Darling sent this cablegram at 12:15 tonight to Rear Admiral Cotton at Nice:

"Vice consul at Beirut reported assassinated. Proceed immediately nearest port. Report.
"DARLING."

It is expected the squadron will get away immediately upon the receipt of this cablegram, the Brooklyn, San Francisco and Machias going together.

Crime Causes Indignation.

The news created a feeling of general indignation that such a wanton crime could have been committed. Mr. Magelssen, who was about 30 years old, a brother-in-law of Consul Ravndal, was appointed vice consul at Beirut, September 20, 1899, prior to which time he had been a consular clerk in Turkey. He was of Scandinavian descent, born at Bratsburg, Minn., the son of a Lutheran minister, was educated at Lutheran college, Decorah, Iowa, and was a man of more than usual intelligence with a record clear of any personal or official trouble which might be construed as cause for anyone to seek his life.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon Captain Cowles called on Acting Secretary Loomis and asked to be acquainted with the news. The navy department was then provided with a copy of Minister Leishman's dispatch. The outlook was made distinctly worse 15 minutes later when Acting Secretary Loomis was handed this telegram from the American board of missions in Boston:

"American board of missions is advised of an attempt to burn the building of the Euphrates college at Harput, Turkey, where conditions are growing increasingly critical. Grave anxiety is felt for the safety of American citizens."

A copy of this message was also sent to President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay. He has, it is believed, directed the state department to have Mr. Leishman demand full reparation. This the department has already done.

Will Be No Joint Action.

With no details as to the assassination or the attempt to burn Euphrates college, there is no definite basis for prediction as to the political effect of these events. The state department, however, does not believe the assassination can be attributed to the same elements of violence that are bringing on a general conflagration in the Balkans. Harput has alwys been a center of disturbance. United States Consul Norton had great difficulty in arriving at his post there two years ago. Missionaries there have frequently been in serious danger.

The United States' policy in respect to the injury of American interests will be firm as iron, but there will be no joint action with European powers. The United States government will demand that Turkey make due reparation by the punishment of the offenders, and possibly by indemnity. When this is given the United States will withdraw its whip hand. This government will run no risk in becoming entangled in any alliance, direct or indirect, with any other power regarding Turkey. It will steer clear of all coalitions of European powers.

There is a surmise, nothing more, that the assassination of Vice Consul Magelssen may have been caused by Bulgarian or Macedonian revolutionists in pursuance of their threat to focus attention on themselves by killing foreign consuls.

ARMY AND NAVY DIVIDE HONOR OF VICTORIES

Island Is Taken from Soldiers, Who Later Destroy the Entire Fleet.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PORTLAND, ME., Aug. 27.—The events and developments in the war game today were considered the most important since the hostile fleet first appeared off Portland. The navy made a grand coup in the capture of Long Island in the forenoon, while the army made a spectacular play in the destruction of all the 17 opposing ships that attacked the coast defenses in the afternoon. The navy, however, seems to have had a little the better of it, for, strange as it may seem, the capture of Long Island was considered more important than the destruction of the 17 vessels.

Long Island has been declared out of the game until tomorrow night, and thus the big searchlights will not be working, which will be of almost inestimable value to the navy. On the other hand, after sunset the destroyed warships went back into commission again. The Hartford fought with the fleet, and although a training ship, has been used as a cruiser evidently.

New York Syrians Explain Probable Cause of Vice Consul's Assassination.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—In the Syrian colony of the city the news of the assassination of Mr. Magelssen, vice consul at Beirut, came as a shock. In the absence of definite details there were two theories of the tragedy. Either Mr. Magelssen had fallen a victim to the fanatical hatred of a Mussulman for a Christian, or because of his efficient and earnest

STARTLING RECOMMENDATIONS ARE MADE BY LIEUT.-GEN. MILES IN HIS PARTING LETTER TO ROOT

Urges Organization of Motor Vehicle Corps—Cavalry Should Be Remodeled and Used to Build Military Roads.

THE LATTER IS USELESS EXPENSE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, Aug. 27.—The last official utterance of Lieutenant General Nelson A. Miles has been made public through unofficial sources in the war department. It is in the form of a letter to Secretary of War Root and contains many important and sensational recommendations for the betterment of the army service.

The communication has been held up in Secretary Root's office until now on the ground that General Miles' recommendations should be acted upon before publicity was given to them.

General Miles makes a number of important suggestions for the remodeling of the army organization. He proposes to minimize the cavalry branch and to equip a strong corps of war motor cycles and armed automobiles in its place. He favors mounted riflemen, but says the horse is far less important than formerly and that the automobile will take its place in the next war.

One of his most important recommendations is the establishment of a road-building corps of 5,000 men as a nucleus to construct military roads in time of peace and to co-operate with the state authorities in the movement. He would have the corps equipped with modern road-building machinery and begin at once the work of improving the principal highways that have military and strategic importance.

Have Too Much Cavalry.

General Miles' letter, which was written the day before he left office, is as follows:

Headquarters of the Army,
Washington, D. C., Aug. 7, 1903.

The Honorable,
The Secretary of War.

Sir:

Within the past year I have seen the principal part of the army wherever it has been serving, have carefully inspected the defenses of the Pacific coast, and within the last few months have inspected some of the principal fortifications on the Atlantic and gulf coasts.

There are some features concerning the army that I deem it my duty to lay before the authorities.

My views concerning the organization of the army have been presented in official communications and in testimony whenever required by the committees of congress.

My recommendation as to the strength of the mounted force in proportion to the infantry was, at the time, the extreme limit that I felt justified in recommending, and was a much larger percentage than I would have advocated but for certain circumstances existing at that time; yet even on that recommendation the infantry regiments were cut down and the cavalry force increased until now the latter is entirely out of proportion, useless and enormously expensive.

At the commencement of the Spanish war, when we had well-trained, thoroughly equipped, hardened and experienced cavalry, a portion of it was obliged to remain at Tampa and in its place newly organized troops were sent to the front. Now that was either all wrong or the present organization of the army, with the great expense incident thereto, is unwise and injudicious, and this subject requires, in my judgment, the serious attention of the government.

Citizens Skilled Horsemen.

There is no country, with the possible exception of Russia, that has so large a number of men who are accustomed to live in the saddle and are experienced and expert horsemen as the United States. It is safe to say that there are tens of thousands of men in our country who are in the saddle every day who are skilled in landcraft and the use of arms and who can be easily converted into a most formidable corps of mounted riflemen. In fact, there could easily be mobilized in our country at least 10 times as many mounted men, many of whom have had military service, as could be landed on our shores by any government or governments within any reasonable time. We have 100,000 men accustomed to the saddle and rifle that could be used to quickly overrun either Canada or Mexico, hence the disproportion of our mounted forces to that of the main body of the army is unnecessary and injudicious. In European armies the proportion of mounted troops to infantry is from one-fourth to one-fifth, in the English army it is one-seventh, while in our army there are one-half as many cavalry as infantry regiments.

The marvelous development in modern arms—rifles, machine guns and quick-firing field artillery—renders the cavalry, as formerly used on the battlefield, obsolete, while the wonderful development in the use of motor power and electrical appliances has rendered the horse far less important than formerly. These facts are doubly significant and should be recognized by the military authorities and the government.

Use of Motor Vehicles.

There is, however, a corps or force required in our army that could be rendered of great utility not only to the military, but to the people of this country. This power is being recognized by European governments, and I have several times recommended its use by ours. It will be utilized in the next war, and preparation for its use by our army should no longer be neglected. I have reference to the bicycle, motorcycle and the automobile, which have been developed to that extent that they have become a most valuable means of communication and transportation. Five regiments of cavalry should be discontinued and a corps of five regiments should be organized, thoroughly trained and constantly employed in the use of these modern appliances. It should be regarded as a flying corps or a corps of observation, to open the way for the advance of an army, to obtain information, to reconnoiter the country and to repair or build roads and bridges. Officers and men of the cavalry, artillery and infantry, and of the quartermaster's and medical departments, and engineers and signals corps, should serve two or four years with this corps.

Useful Employment.

The modern appliances of road building are vastly superior to those formerly used (in fact, the work is now done principally by machinery), and this corps should be supplied with all the recent inventions and improvements for that purpose. It should be constantly moved about through different parts of the country, where it would have every opportunity for experience in improving the roads suitable for the movement of an army, making careful study of the topography, surveying and mapping the different sections as it passes over them, making both officers and men familiar with this most important work, and at the same time benefiting the country wherever the corps may be operating. In fact, such a corps would be of more important, practical and direct benefit to the country in time of peace than all the rest of the army, and in time of war would be invaluable.

The millions of dollars that are now uselessly expended for one-third of the mounted force could in this way be utilized in bringing about a great improvement in the army, conferring a great benefit upon the country, at the same time training a most important corps for military service, and I urge that this measure be recommended to and authorized by congress. Yours respectfully,

NELSON A. MILES,
Lieutenant General.

VETERANS FOR MAJ. STEWART

Soldiers' League Conferees Pick Him for District Attorney.

HAS A GOOD RECORD

Association Will Vote on Question of His Selection at Meeting Thursday Night.

ALLEGHENY TO GET SHERIFF

The conference committee of the Soldiers' Civic league has indorsed Maj. Robert E. Stewart of North Braddock as a candidate for the Republican nomination for district attorney. At a general meeting of the league Thursday night the selection of the committee will be accepted or rejected.

Maj. Robert E. Stewart.

Maj. Stewart is one of the best known members of the Allegheny county bar. At the time W. D. Porter, now a superior court judge, was nominated for district attorney, Maj. Stewart was his opponent in the Republican primaries. The major has always been a Republican. He went into the army a first lieutenant of Company E, One Hundred and Twenty-third Pennsylvania Volunteers and served through the greater part of the Civil war. Major Stewart lives in North Braddock.

When the Citizens administration in county and city refused to allow the old soldier to remain in the public employ, the veterans decided to organize for their own protection. There are thousands of them in the county and this year they are standing together. The league thought that an old soldier should be nominated for a county office on some ticket, preferably the Republican. This conference committee was named to take charge of the negotiations: J. K. Campbell, Dr. C. P. Seip, F. L. Blair, J. W. Moreland and R. A. Downey.

Selects Major Stewart.

The conference committee conferred with many Republicans from all parts of the county and found that the party favored the selection of an old soldier for district attorney or sheriff. The veterans at first seemed to prefer the shrievalty, but later switched to the district attor-

THREE GIRLS ARE DROWNED

Precipitated Into Girtys Run Over a High Embankment.

COMPANIONS ESCAPE

Mabel and Edna Scott and Miss Moore Met Death Early This Morning.

NO ONE TO HEAR THEIR CRIES

Three young girls were drowned and a young man, a brother of two of the dead girls, and a third sister, narrowly escaped the same fate about 2:40 o'clock this morning. The girls lost their lives in Girtys run, in Evergreen borough, and a large searching party was called out in the hope of recovering the bodies of the girls before they are washed out into the Allegheny river by the high water, as the run is badly swollen from the recent rains.

The dead:

MISS MABEL SCOTT, about 20 years of age, of Evergreen.

MISS EDNA SCOTT, aged about 15, of Evergreen.

MISS S. MOORE, aged about 20, was visiting at the Scott girls' home.

The injured:

MR. SCOTT, aged about 22, badly bruised by falling.

The weight of the five persons gave great momentum to the rig and it struck some stones and turned over, throwing the five down the short space between the bank and the water.

Mr. Scott struggled to save his girl companions, but they were too many for him and one of the girls went down. Still holding to the others and trying to bring them ashore, he called for help, but in the lonely country road there was no one at that early hour to hear him.

The party had been out in the country to a social gathering and were returning to the Scott home in Evergreen when the accident occurred. A buggy in which five were driving was in charge of the young man, but as the road is very dark most of the way it was almost impossible for him to find his way. At the point where the accident occurred the horse drew the buggy too near the edge of the embankment, at the foot of which Girtys run flows.

Suddenly the horse slipped one foot, but he was held up by the driver, and in regaining his lost foothold his other feet slipped and the horse lurched forward, dragging the buggy and its occupants over the hill with him.

In looking about to see if the girls were still floating the young man saw but one of his sisters remaining above the water and despite the danger of his remaining to help her he turned about and grasped the almost dead girl, and after a terrible struggle managed to reach the bank, where he laid the unconscious girl, and then almost fainted from exhaustion himself.

Miss Moore was a cousin of the Scott girls, but after the accident it was impossible owing to the confusion to learn where her home is.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 27.—With Reliance less than a third of a mile from the finish and Shamrock hull down on the horizon, fully two miles astern of the gallant defender, the fourth race of the present series for the America's cup was declared off because of the expiration of the time limit of five and one-half hours, as happened on Thursday last. Although officially it was not a race, the defeat administered to the challenger was so ignominious that whatever lingering hope remained in the breasts of the friends of Sir Thomas' boat vanished into thin air. Reliance's victory was in every way more decisive than that of last Saturday. Outsailed, outpointed and outfooted, it was a procession from start to finish.

The Herreshoff wonder beat the Shamrock hopelessly in the 15 miles of windward work, rounding the outer mark 33 minutes and 30 seconds ahead of her, a gain in actual time of 31 minutes and 30 seconds, and down the wind she steadily increased her lead.

The real race of the day was not against Shamrock, but it was seen in the exciting struggle of Reliance in the last half hour to reach the finish line before the regatta committee fired the gun which should announce the expiration of the time limit.

Shamrock Badly Handled.

Had the wind freshened 20 minutes earlier than it did the cup series would have ended today with three straight wins for the defender, and Fife's famous light weather boat would have sailed back to Albion's shores one of the most disastrously worsted challengers in the history of the America's cup contests.

Fully as discouraging as the sailing qualities displayed by the challenger was the atrocious manner in which she was handled. The Yankee skipper not only outmaneuvered his rival in the spectacular battle for position at the start, as he

FLOOD CAUSES DEATHS IN IOWA

Number of Persons Drowned and Property Destroyed in Council Bluffs.

TRAIN GOES THROUGH BRIDGE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Council Bluffs, Ia., Aug. 27.—Eight inches of rain fell this morning, the Burlington tracks were badly washed and a number of drownings are reported. H. H. LaRue, lumberman, was drowned while rescuing persons from the fair grounds, which were flooded by the Nodaway river. Charles A. R. Fash, a horseman of Clinton, was drowned by the derailing of the car in which he was riding. It is said there were a number of other persons in the car at the time and that they were also drowned.

CRESTON, IA., Aug. 27.—At Kent, Ia., a freight train on the Burlington road went through a bridge that had been weakened by the high water, carrying down with it the engineer and fireman. Both escaped by swimming to shore. Two and one-half inches of water fell over Creston and vicinity in six hours, washing tracks out and destroying much stacked hay and grain. The storm was the worst ever known in this vicinity.

KANSAS CITY, MO., Aug. 27.—Heavy rains north and west of Kansas City have caused the Kansas and Missouri rivers to rise suddenly to unusual heights and the results may prove grave. A bulletin issued today by the local weather bureau announced that the Kansas river would rise from five to seven feet at Kansas City in the next 48 hours, and a rise of equal magnitude, it is stated, is coming this way down the Missouri.

HOLLAND BRINGS BAYET COLLECTION

Director of Carnegie Museum Reports Successful Deal With Belgian Baron.

RHAMPHORHYNCHUS COMING

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Aug. 27.

Dr. W. J. Holland, director of the Carnegie museum in Pittsburgh, who arrived last Saturday on the steamship New York from Europe, returned this morning to New York from Magnolia, Mass., where he went immediately after his arrival to visit his family, who are spending the summer there. Dr. Holland was found at the Hotel Manhattan, making his arrangements to go back to Pittsburgh. Before leaving tonight he said:

"I have put in my morning at the office of the agent of the transportation company which has charge of forwarding from New York to Pittsburgh the great paleontological collection of the Baron de Bayet, which I went to Belgium to secure for the Carnegie museum. It is the personal gift of Mr. Andrew Carnegie to the institution. It is contained in [illegible] boxes, which weigh about 20 tons and will fill a number of freight cars. It was at the time of purchase the largest perfect collection of its kind in private hands in Europe. This was the report made in reference to it by Dr. A. Smith Woodward to the trustees of the British museum. Its acquisition and transfer to America is most important from the standpoint of a student of science. There has been no representative collection of the extinct plants and animals of the European formations in America until the present time.

"This want is now [illegible] and the mueum at Pittsburgh will have a collection such as will not soon again be assembled. The Baron was engaged for 30 years in amassing the collection and spared neither time, labor nor expense in getting the best and rarest things.

"As a single striking illustration of the wealth of specimens contained in the collection I may say that there are 15 or 16 specimens of rhamphorhynchus and allied winged reptiles. Prof. Marsh of New Haven bought a specimen of rhamphorhynchus in Europe a number of years ago for which he paid $2,000. Two other somewhat defective specimens are known to exist in American museums. We have five times as many specimens as there are in all the other museums of America and many of our specimens are exceedingly fine.

"A great many specimens in the collection are known to be new to science, that is to say, they have never heretofore been named or described. Baron Bayet has always intended to address himself to the task of publication, but his duties as secretary of the royal cabinet of Belgium and the care of his estates have stood in the way and now that he has turned the collection over to us we have the task of writing up the new material. Prof. C. R. Eastman of Harvard university is already working upon the fishes. I entrusted to him certain portions of the collection of fishes to take to Paris to compare them with the types of the celebrated Gazzolo collection which were named by Louis Agassiz.

"The Gazzolo collection was brought by Napoleon I. from Italy to Paris and the elder Agassiz achieved his reputation in part of his labors upon this collection. The Bayet collection of Italian fishes was taken from the same locality as the Gazzolo collection. Many of our specimens are far finer and more perfect than those at Paris. The locality is now exhausted."

In response to the question how the doctor had enjoyed his trip, he replied: "Fairly well. I wrote 100 pages of a new book upon the matter of North America while going over and 50 pages coming back. My publisher put a type writing machine on board to make me work. I had to work like a slave when in Brussels. I had no recreation at all. The only diversion was an afternoon spent at the Royal palace, where his majesty, the king of Belgium, kindly gave a luncheon, as the paper stated, in honor of Sir Edward Cassell, a friend of Edward VII. of England, and myself, and a few trips on Sunday afternoons to spots of interest."

TWO BROTHERS ELOPED.

Pittsburgh Young Men Braved Parental Authority by Marrying in Ohio.

RAVENNA, O., Aug. 27.—(Special.)—Two elopements have occurred here this week and in both Pittsburgh young people figured. On Monday John Earle Hull and Miss Laura F. Price of Pittsburgh came here, got their license and were married by the Rev. Mr. Wilson, at the minister's residence. The groom said the bride had been locked in her room for a week in the hope that she would recover from her liking for Hull.

On Tuesday William C. Hull of Pittsburgh, a brother of John Earle Hull, decided to follow his brother's example, and came here to wed. He picked for his bride Miss Gladys Bean, a daughter of H. L. Bean, an auctioneer of this place. They went to Warren and were quietly married, returning here that night.

TWO OLDEST MEMBERS NINETY YEARS OF AGE

IRWIN, PA., Aug. 27.—(Special.)—The Lutheran congregation that worships in old Brush Creek church held its annual reunion today on the grounds surrounding the building, until the rain drove all indoors. The day was given over to visiting, a picnic dinner, and addresses by Lutheran clergymen, among whom were the Rev. P. Roerr, pastor, and the Rev. S. K. Herbster of Irwin. The Lutheran congregation of Brush Creek is 133 years old, and among those present today were two men 90 years old, who are the oldest members living.

Young Man Takes Carbolic Acid.

Jerry Ryan, 24 years old and married, of No. 3 West Robinson street, Allegheny, attempted suicide by drinking carbolic acid in the street near his home shortly after 11 o'clock last night. He was removed to the Allegheny General hospital, where it was said he will probably recover.

STOCKMEN DID NOT FEAR RAIN

Vacation of the East Liberty Yards Made the Occasion for a Gala Day.

LONG ROUTE OF BIG PARADE

All Participants Were in Vehicles, Nearly All of Which Were Decorated. White-Robed Girls Sang Songs—Large Crowd Present.

Undaunted by the elements, which were much against them, the members of the Pittsburgh live stock exchange, bedecked in gala array, yesterday formally vacated the East Liberty stock yards, which for 49 years have been the largest receiving and shipping point for live stock in Western Pennsylvania. The men started on their triumphant march to the new Herrs island yard promptly at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. All the cattle in the old yards were loaded on cars and removed to the yards, which will be opened September 7.

Promptly at 1 o'clock Simon O'Donnell, general manager of the yards, gave the signal, and the mounted police, who headed the procession, sallied forth. Mr. O'Donnell was assisted by James T. Ewing and James Brain, who acted as marshals. The latter attracted considerable attention, being garbed in the costume of a typical western cowboy. None of the paraders ventured against the storm on foot, carriages, wagons and horseback being the mode of conveyance.

The first division, which was in charge of Marshal Ewing, was headed by the Carnegie Library band of Homestead and was composed of the members of the exchange in 32 carriages. The second division consisted of floats upon which were displayed fancy live stock and exhibits by various provision companies and butchers. The third division was made up of wagons from the various dealers in Pittsburgh, one of which contained a bevy of 25 little girls, garbed in white, who sang patriotic airs along the route.

Much enthusiasm greeted the paraders everywhere. The parade over, the "marchers" indulged in light refreshments in the offices of the new yards. Many unique decorations and banners were displayed on the numerous wagons that made up the third section.

Last night a dance and jollification took place in the East End hotel among the members of the exchange, which was also participated in by their families.

Allegheny butchers will be the gainers by the removal of the stock yards from East Liberty to Herrs island. Many of them are now killing their own beef, and they say that the transportation charges from East Liberty sometimes have been as much as $6 a head. A city ordinance forbade them driving cattle through the Pittsburgh streets except between the hours of 10 p. m. and 8 a. m. One of the leading butchers in the Allegheny market said yesterday that the opening of the stock yards at Herrs island will mean that more homedressed meat will be sold in the two cities, as the butchers will have better opportunities for killing.

FUN FOR TRACTION MEN.

Good-Sized Crowd at Calhoun Park Picnic—Winners of of the Contests.

Notwithstanding the rain there was a good-sized crowd at Calhoun park yesterday, where the second day of the picnic given by the employes of the Pittsburgh Railways Company was held. President James D. Callery was again umpire of the ball game, but after seven innings the game was declared off on account of rain and the contest will be pulled off at Friendship park on September 11, the proceeds to go to the relief fund of the association of the employes. The winners of the different contests were: Three-legged race, Wilson brothers, inspectors, 7 seconds; sack race, William Casey, Bunker Hill barn, 35 seconds, 50 yards; wheelbarrow race, C. Lamneck, Bunker Hill barn, 15 seconds, 100 yards; potato race, E. J. Gratton, Butler street barn, 41 seconds, 25 yards; 100-yard dash, J. M. Leach, Bunker Hill barn, 18 seconds; prize waltz, Charles Sweeny, conductor, Oakland barns; cake walk, Miss Nora Grozes, No. 319 Frankstown avenue, East End. In all contests the prizes were five-dollar gold pieces.

The winner of the raffle of the trip to Atlantic City will be announced next Sunday. The picnic of the men of the United and Birmingham divisions will be held September 9 and 10, and they will raffle off a trip to either Niagara Falls, Toronto, Atlantic City or Cape May, the winner to take his choice.

KEPT FIREMEN BUSY.

Blazes in the East End, South Side and Downtown Districts.

Overheated boilers in the cellar of the eight-story building at Liberty avenue and Tenth street, occupied by James B. Haines & Sons, drygoods merchants, set fire to a coal pile in a vault under the sidewalk in Tenth street about 10 o'clock last night. Sparks and smoke coming out of the windows in the eighth story rear caused the impression that the interior was burning. Members of the downtown fire companies extinguished the blaze. The damage is about $75.

Fire caused a small blaze at the wagon works of W. R. Glass & Co. in South Twenty-seventh street last night. The blaze was caused by shavings near the forge igniting.

A restaurant at No. 408 Grant street was slightly damaged by fire last night. While returning from the fire Truck A broke a rear axle at Fifth avenue and Smithfield street and tied up traffic in the streets for some time. The ladders and hooks were removed from the truck and placed on a fuel wagon which answered alarms in place of the truck till the latter was repaired and removed to the engine house in Seventh avenue about 11:30 o'clock.

A tool shed owned by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in Dallas avenue, East End, caught fire last night and consumed about $50 worth of material. Engines No. 18 and No. 8 responded to the alarm and extinguished the blaze.

DISASTER IN A MINE.

One Man Is Killed and Five Injured by Fall of Slate.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., Aug. 27.—(Special.)—One man was killed and five others injured by a fall of slate in the Hopfer mine near Portage, this morning. The dead man is James Murphy, 50 years old, married.

The injured are: John Murphy, 21 years old, hurt about head; Gus Johnson, 45 years old, condition very serious; William McCandless, 25 years old, serious; John Doney, 21 years old, serious; Claude Conrad, 18 years old, not serious.

The accident happened after all the men had gone to work. The roof suddenly fell at one of the headings, burying the men in a mass of slate and dirt. Help was at hand immediately and the men were dug out. James Murphy was dead when taken out, and his son, John Murphy, is in a critical condition.

FIRE ON UNDERGROUND RAILROAD CAUSES PANIC

PARIS, Aug. 27.—A fire which broke out in a car of the Metropolitan underground railroad at the Hotel de Ville station today caused a panic among the passengers, who jumped from the train. Several persons were injured and one woman fractured her skull. The other passengers were less seriously injured. The fire was caused by electrical flashes due to defective connection. It was during the rush for the exits that the people were injured.

Jefferis stand next, in the order named. Charles W. Lauer, wearing a light suit, stands behind Mr. Merritt and next to him stands Philip J. Brinkman.

SHAMROCK III. CLEARLY OUTCLASSED BY RELIANCE

has done every time they have met, but worse still for the down-hearted supporters of Shamrock, Capt. Wringe repeated his blunder of Tuesday. He crossed the line in the wake of Reliance with a handicap of 61 of the precious seconds for which Fife had sacrificed so much in sail spread for time allowance.

It was not a pleasant day on the water and the observation fleet was hardly more than half as large as on the preceding days. It was notable, however, for a strange flag on the ocean, the combination French and Spanish colors of the St. Louis exposition, flying from the peak of the steam yacht Reva.

Shamrock Beaten in an Hour.

There was a chill in the atmosphere. Low, wet clouds shut out the sky and the mist wreaths on the sea made everything look ghost-like and indistinct. The dark water of the ocean was as smooth as a floor and a light breeze of about four knots blew out of the southwest. The course was laid 15 miles dead in to the wind and return.

At the end of the first hour Shamrock was beaten and the interest waned. After rounding the float for the run home and setting a big ballooner, the wind which had strengthened to six or seven knots on the beat, died down, and the towering clouds of canvas drifted lazily down an ocean lane a mile wide between the two divisions of the excursion fleet.

Even in the light air, it was astonishing how the defender slipped through the placid seas. With the gentle breeze distending the surface of her pure white sails and her stern crowded with tars to hold her head up, she moved along as serenely and peacefully as if in a dreamless sleep. Yet the gap between her and the challenger steadily widened until two miles separated them.

The Wind Came too Late.

Half an hour from home, when the spectators had abandoned any idea that the finish line could be reached in the time, the wind suddenly freshened and Reliance came bowling down at a merry clip. But the wind had come too late and when still a few hundred yards from home the gun on the tug Navigator boomed across the water. The excursion boats held on until she crossed the line to give her a rousing welcome, and then scampered for New York. Sir Thomas, who, heretofore, has always followed his champion into the Hook, sent his steam yacht, the Erin, ahead at full speed, as if to drown out the memory of the inglorious licking he got today.

The next race, which will be like the one attempted today, 15 miles to leeward or windward and return, will be sailed on Saturday.

Sir Thomas, speaking of today's affair, said: "I am willing to repeat what I said this morning. I still have hope, slight though it is. Let us hope for a spanking good breeze Saturday. I called my friends around me this afternoon and was about to express my regret at my failure, when I happened to look at my watch. Then I reserved my decision and I may never have to make that speech."

Mr. Iselin and Capt. Barr declined to talk, except that Mr. Iselin regretted that the wind was not sufficient to bring the boats in on time.

DONEHOO LEAVES PULPIT.

Sharon Minister Resigns Charge to Become Journalist—Son of Pittsburgher.

SHARON, PA., Aug. 27.—(Special.)—The Rev. George P. Donehoo, for 11 years pastor of the First Presbyterian church, has tendered his resignation to the church board and it will be acted upon by the congregation next Wednesday night. The resignation was made on account of ill health. Mr. Donehoo is at Atlantic City.

He is a son of the Rev. E. P. Donehoo of Pittsburgh. The letter caused a surprise when read to the congregation. It is announced here that Mr. Donehoo will, for the present at least, leave the pulpit and engage in journalistic work in New York City.

FRENCH FRIARS BARRED BY SOUTHERN REPUBLICS

BUENOS AYRES, Aug. 27.—(Special Cable.)—It has been definitely decided that the friars expelled from France shall not come to Argentina. The North German Lloyd steamship line has dropped its proposal to bring 6,000 friars to South America, as the governments of Argentina, Brazil and Uruguay have declared they are not disposed to receive that class of immigrants.

STEAMER SINKS SCHOONER; FIVE MEN ARE DROWNED

STONINGTON, CONN., Aug. 27.—The Metropolitan steamship H. M. Whitney, from New York to Boston, ran down and sank the schooner John Booth, just west of New Haven, last night. The Whitney rescued the captain of the Booth; the Maine of the Stonington line saved a sailor, but the five other men in the Booth's crew and a passenger, who belonged in Salem, Mass., were drowned.

VETERANS FOR STEWART FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY

ney. They interviewed a number of Republicans on the advisability of indorsing Maj. Stewart. He was found to have many friends among the Republicans. The committee finally decided to name him as its choice.

There was a regular meeting of the league last night and the candidacy of Maj. Stewart was discussed in an informal way. It was decided to act on the report of the conference committee Thursday night. All league members will be notified to be present and a vote will then be taken. It is considered quite probable that the association will agree to support Maj. Stewart if he decides to go into the Republican primaries. Should he secure the Republican nomination the league will indorse his candidacy and the members will work and vote for him in November. Maj. Stewart went east last evening on the 10 o'clock train, and had nothing to say about his candidacy.

Allegheny Republicans believe that they should name the candidate for sheriff. There is a feeling that a German-American citizen should be nominated. Numerous names are being mentioned. Among the number are Senator Charles A. Muehlbronner, a son of ex-Mayor Charles W. Geyer, a son of ex-Mayor Voeghtley and a brother of ex-Representative Richard M. Kopp. Another Alleghenian talked of is Charles O. Deverts, select councilman from the Fifteenth ward. A Pittsburgh German-American who has been mentioned is H. C. Bloedel of Lawrenceville.

Maj. J. B. Hamilton of Elizabeth will doubtless have a clear field for prothonotary. He has named all of his delegates and is confident of winning.

John Harvey, an old soldier of the Eleventh ward of Pittsburgh, is a candidate for jury commissioner. His chances of success are bright. Mr. Harvey lost a leg in the service of his country.

Frank T. Redman of Braddock wants to succeed himself as director of the poor. He has no opposition and it is not likely that he will have a fight for the nomination.

Come Out of the Wilderness.

T. M. Brown, who has been named by Bigelow for sheriff, can come out of the "wilderness" and admit that he is the choice of the boss and that he has accepted the burden of attempting to corral the real reformers for the machine ticket. The paper that Brown is supposed to pull into line for Bigelow printed this interview with the machine candidate in yesterday morning's issue:

"No, I have not yet given my answer, but will probably do so today," said Mr. Brown during the afternoon, as he hurried for a train. "In the meantime I am going to the woods to think it over. My brother and I want to get into the 'wilderness' so we can consider everything in peace."

Mayor Hays, who has a habit of being frank, had this to say yesterday, when asked if Brown would accept:

"Of course. He has already accepted." The mayor also threw in the opinion that Brown would not likely have been nominated had it not been known that he would accept. Brown was selected at a conference Tuesday morning which was attended by Bigelow, Hays and Verner. When they had decided to put him on the ticket, he was called in. As Brown left the room he is said to have remarked to Bigelow:

"Your kindness to me this day shall never be forgotten. I will remember you always."

Murry A. Verner, chairman of the Citizens county committee, presided Wednesday at a meeting attended by 16 members of the committee and declared that the fusion ticket, composed of three Democrats and two Citizens, was duly ratified. Hurriedly changing his clothes and his politics, he hied himself to Ohio, where he was yesterday interviewed on the outcome of the Buckeye gubernatorial contest. The gentleman, who wears the three-fifths Democratic suit in Pittsburgh, was strong in his declarations for the success of Myron T. Herrick, the Republican nominee.

Could Not Hold Meeting.

A missing janitor, missing because somebody had forgotten to tell him to open the schoolhouse, prevented the Democrats and independent Republicans of the Twenty-third ward from holding a meeting last night to protest against the present leadership of the Citizens party. A meeting was held a month ago in the Hazelwood school house and red hot resolutions denouncing the Citizens party's leaders, and calling for new leaders were adopted. That meeting adjourned to meet again last night.

"The Democrats and independent Republicans who gave the Citizens party its majority in this ward at the last election are still as much opposed as they were a month ago to the present management of the party for its failure to redeem our ante-election pledges," said J. D. Swaney last night. "Wherever I go in the ward I hear the voters expressing their condemnation of the leaders of the Citizens party for not fulfilling their solemn pledges. We would have had a big meeting tonight but for the unforeseen circumstances that prevented us from holding it.

"If the meeting had been held you would have heard what the people think of the new alliance between the Democrats and Citizens. To think that after having tried and failed to effect harmony with the old organization, which we have fought against for three campaigns, the management of the Citizens party should have the impudence to want fusion again. The voters here feel that if the old organization is to be restored it should go back into power under its old leaders without having grafted on it another set of bosses like the Citizens party's leaders of today."

MAGELSSEN INCURRED ENMITY OF OFFICIALS

labors in behalf of his countrymen he had been marked for death by Turkish officials, and their wishes carried out by an easily-found assassin.

"That the situation in Beirut has been critical has been well known to the world for some months," said N. M. Diab, editor of the Meraat-El-Gharb, "The Mirror of the West," one of the influential Syrian publications of this country. "The feeling between Christians and Mohammedans has been growing more bitter every day, while the official as well as popular antipathy to foreigners of all descriptions has kept pace with it.

"I knew Mr. Magelssen very well. He is a young man and had not been in Beirut very long, but already he has become favorably known to the Syrians of the world. This was because of his energy in looking after the rights of American citizens.

"Many Syrians have come here of late years, and there are 200,000 of them in this country today. Some of these, after becoming citizens, have returned to their native country, and have immediately been seized by the soldiers for military service. So common had the practice become that it was not unusual for Turkish soldiers to tear up the United States passports before the very eyes of the citizen so seized, while they were told that America could not aid them.

"Since Mr. Magelssen went out there he has brought about a change and has been working hard all the time to stamp out the practice. He has insisted that many American citizens be released from the army, and therefore he had incurred the enmity of the government. I do not know, of course, but to my mind it would not be unlikely for the officials, in such a case simply to intimate that Mr. Magelssen was a stumbling block and a man could be found to remove him.

"On the other hand, the intensity of feeling between Christians and Mussulmans in all such countries could be responsible at any time for such a murder. A fanatic believing that such a murder would insure rewards hereafter, would not hesitate to find a way to do such a thing."

SORROW EXPRESSED BY UNIVERSAL PEACE UNION

Meeting Hopes That the United States Will Act in Spirit of Kindness.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

MYSTIC, CONN., Aug. 27.—The news of the assassination of the American vice consul at Beirut, Syria, announced at the afternoon session today of the Universal Peace union, was received with expressions of sorrow. The following was adopted:

We as American citizens feel the heartiest sympathy with the nation and the family of our consul reported as assassinated. We recognize a result in this and a calamity that grows out of conditions of war and of the military system. While there are innumerable armies and battleships, and ignorance and oppression, we counsel a remedy by the supremacy of law and the principles of peace and more of a common brotherhood. We trust that while our government meets the crime fairly, it will be in the spirit of kindness and peace, and not that of retaliation and vengeance, such as has been demanded by Russia of Turkey for a similar cause.

NEW BALKAN STATE.

Plan to Make Turkey Contribute Territory for Christian Empire.

VIENNA, Aug. 26.—(Special Cable.)—Will the visit of the king of England, the king of Italy and the czar of Russia here within the next few weeks result in the erection of a Balkan state with King George of Greece at its head?

The impression is growing here that the fate of the Balkan states will shortly be settled in accord with this idea. It is generally recognized the time has come when the atrocities of the Turks must be stopped and those who know Emperor Francis Joseph have intimated that he has evolved this plan, which, he hopes, will meet with the approval of the powers.

LONDON PAPERS COMMENT ON MURDER OF MAGELSSEN

LONDON, Aug. 27.—(Special Cable.)—The Daily News calls the assassination of Magelssen "one more indication that the Moslem subjects of the porte are moved by a common passion which drives them wherever they may be to wreak their vengeance on foreign officials." The Chronicle says: "The murder of the Russian consul at Monastir has been followed by the murder of the American vice consul at Beirut. It is improbable that the deed is a mere coincidence. The news seems to point to a widespread revival of the anti-Christian feeling throughout the Ottoman empire, which may assume a form the European powers cannot ignore."

Elopers Were Held for Court.

Mrs. Ellen Morgan, aged 28, and William Wheatley, aged 22, were placed in jail yesterday on charges preferred by the woman's husband, William Morgan, of East Pittsburgh. Mrs. Morgan and Wheatley eloped from East Pittsburgh six weeks ago and were arrested at Butler Wednesday. Yesterday they were given a hearing before Justice [illegible] and held for court. The woman said her husband maltreated her, which influenced her to elope with Wheatley, with whom she had been acquainted in England. Mrs. Morgan refused to promise to reform and return home to her child.

Pittsburghers Sail on Cymric.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—(Special.)—On the White Star liner Cymric, which sails tomorrow for Liverpool, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. [illegible] of Pittsburgh have booked passage.

GIRL DRAGGED BY STREET CAR

Dress, Blown by Wind, Caught in Running Board—Injuries Were Serious.

BOY SHOT BY HIS COMPANION

Wilkinsburg Lad in Bad Shape With Bullet in Body—Several Accidents Caused by Street Cars and Railroad Trains.

Mary Frodski, a 7-year-old Slav girl, was dangerously injured by a car on the Homestead division of the Pittsburgh railways lines, near her home in Munhall, last night. She was playing on the pavement and was standing on the curb with her back to the tracks, when a car came by and her thin dress blown by the wind caught on the end of the running board.

She was dragged a considerable distance before the motorman was attracted by the child's cries and the screams of the passengers. When the portion of her dress attached to the car ripped off and she rolled under the car wheels, her right leg was cut off, her right shoulder broken and she sustained many other cuts and bruises on the head and body. She was taken to Mercy hospital. The girl is a daughter of John Frodski of Pottsville, an employe of the Homestead steel works.

While playing with a Flobert rifle yesterday afternoon, David Champion of Beulah street, Wilkins township, dangerously wounded Charles Kane, 13 years old, of No. 26 Hart street, Wilkinsburg. Young Kane is so badly wounded that Dr. A. J. Buck, who was called in to attend him, had the boy removed to St. Francis hospital, where the X-ray will be used today to locate the bullet. It is thought the ball penetrated the boy's lung, and he is in a serious condition.

Kane, Champion and four other boys had been playing on the hillside near the Kane boy's home. During the play the Kane boy grabbed the end of Young Champion's rifle and said, "Lets go over to the other hill and shoot some birds." Champion said he had no more blanks but one with which to load with shot, and that it would be useless to go. Kane again grabbed the rifle when Champion said, "If you do that again I will shoot." Kane again playfully grabbed at the rifle and started running, when Champion took aim and fired. Kane shouted "Oh, oh," and started for home, blood flowing freely from his mouth.

Because an inspector of the Pittsburgh Railways Company signaled to an Erin street car to proceed from Sixth to Wylie avenue after Conductor John Dyer had given a signal to an East Pittsburgh car to cross Wylie avenue, the two cars came together with a crash yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the intersection of these streets, injuring several passengers. Among the injured were Constable Grant Miller, who had one of his hands badly crushed, and several women. They were attended by a physician and sent to their homes. Both cars were damaged.

The slippery condition of the rails led to a collision between a shifting engine of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad and a street car on the Carnegie line of the Pittsburgh Railways Company yesterday morning. George Daniels, the motorman, jumped in time to escape, and none of the passengers was hurt.

During the progress of the Wallace street parade at noon in McKeesport yesterday, a live wire fell at the corner of Sinclair street and Fifth avenue and hit Charles Hansen, a 13-year-old boy, on the right shoulder. He was severely shocked but not seriously injured, and was able to go home. Police kept the crowd back until linemen repaired the wire.

Albert Thomas, nephew of Alderman David Thomas of Allegheny, fractured his right arm, broke two ribs and injured his back by falling from a stable in the rear of his home in Woodland avenue yesterday.

James Walker, a horse dealer of Butler county, is confined at Young's hotel, Etna, by reason of injuries received in a street car collision at the Chartiers run bridge Wednesday night.

Michael Gibson of 14 Twelfth street, is at the Homeopathic hospital suffering with concussion of the brain and an ugly scalp wound, sustained by falling from a wagon.

Conrad Simon, aged 70, a widower at the home of the Little Sisters of the Poor, Washington street, Allegheny, while crossing West Ohio street near the postoffice yesterday afternoon, was knocked down by a Western avenue car. He sustained scalp wounds, was taken to the Allegheny General hospital and later discharged.

Louis Rombert, aged 60 years, is at the West Penn hospital with a badly contused back, as the result of a wagon in which he was riding being struck by an Allegheny Valley train crossing Spring alley, near Twenty-eighth street, yesterday. The train demolished the wagon, hurting the horses seriously and hurling Rombert 30 feet. He was sent to the West Penn hospital and is expected to recover.

FIRED ON THE POLICE.

Excited Oakland Resident Mistook Burglar Hunters for the Real Burglars.

A little after midnight Wednesday morning, the police of the Oakland station were notified by telephone that a robber was on the premises of Mrs. Emma F. Abel of No. 242 Meyran avenue. Lieut. Robert Emmett and Officer Fred Wightman responded immediately, but could find no trace of a man about the place, although Mrs. Abel and her daughter stoutly averred that they saw him peeking around the corner. The police were making a search of the premises when a neighbor was attracted by their noise. He opened fire from his window with a revolver, but stopped when called upon to do so by the officers. He alleges that he fired blank cartridges, and the police say that he fired in the air and so no damage was done.

The ground was soft around the house after the rains of Tuesday, and the police believe that they could have found traces of a robber if one had been there. They say that some of the attempted robberies alleged to have taken place in Oakland are the outcome of the imaginations of timid women.

Shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday morning Officer Edward Cook saw three men acting suspiciously in Edmond street. When he approached they ran down the street with Cook in hot pursuit. When Juniper street was reached Cook drew his revolver and fired. Two of the men stopped and pulling revolvers answered the challenge of the officer, and an exchange of bullets followed which attracted Officers Foster and Ryan. The fugitives stopped firing upon the arrival of the two officers, and escaped down Laurel avenue.

CHARGED WITH SWINDLE OF ONE MILLION DOLLARS

LOUISVILLE, KY., Aug. 27.—A "fake" directory, by means of which over $1,000,000 has been taken from merchants and bankers all over the country, is alleged by local detectives as the ground for the arrest of Jacob W. Geist. Geist, who claimed to represent the National Gazetteer of New York and Chicago, was taken into custody here today, charged with having obtained money by false pretenses from five local firms. According to the officers, if a bona fide order signed by the merchant is given it is "raised" in amount and so changed as to provide for payment before delivery of the directory and advertisement.

J. W. Geist came to Pittsburgh about two months ago and spent two or three weeks here, working in the interest of a commercial gazetteer. He stopped at the Grand Hotel, and as far as can be learned the representations he made here were carried out, and he settled all his bills.

HEAVY RAINS WASHED MUD ON CAR TRACKS

Second Avenue Traction Line Was Tied Up for More Than an Hour.

An almost incessant rain last night flooded the streets in various parts of the city and caused much annoyance by delaying street car travel. The traction lines most inconvenienced by the storm were those running along streets at the foot of hills, as in the West End, the Ninth street line to Allegheny and the lines running to the West End and Carnegie.

The Second avenue line was tied up by mud and gravel washed from the hillsides. The car that started from [illegible] at 9:50 did not get to Smithfield street and Third avenue until 12:20 a. m., requiring two hours and a half for a trip that is scheduled to be made in little more than an hour. The tracks in Second avenue that street ran with water from curb to curb and from the many [illegible] running up the hillside in the Hazelwood district dirt and gravel by the ton were deposited in Second avenue.

The dirt was not deposited in large piles, but wherever a street entered Second avenue the tracks were covered with a layer of dirt only two or three inches deep, but deep enough to prevent the cars from passing.

The Pittsburgh Railways Company seemed to have made no provision until very late for track laborers to clean off the rails. The same Braddock car referred to was held 35 minutes at Johnston street in Hazelwood by a layer of gravel, and although the same street puts out mud at every storm, the car had to be backed to the barn, three blocks away, so that the conductor could notify the dispatcher that he could not proceed. A laborers' crew was sent out, and soon cleared off the track. At several other places along Second avenue similar washes occurred.

Between Glenwood and Braddock dirt had washed down from the hillside and delays on that account were so frequent that the first car through from Braddock did not get to the Hazelwood barns until 12:15 p. m., being an hour and 20 minutes on the way.

The rain was unaccompanied by wind and there was little thunder and lightning. It was simply a steady downpour of water lasting an hour at least.

ATTRACTIONS AT THE EXPO.

Large Model of Famous Strasburg Clock to Be on Exhibition.

The list of novel displays at the new exposition, which opens next Wednesday, still grows. One exhibitor has arranged for a monster model of the world-famed Apostolic Strasburg clock, which is so complicated in mechanism as to require the constant attention of an expert. On the stroke of the hour the 12 apostles file out, the cock crows and the solemn procession returns to its starting place. Besides the hours of the day this wonderful timepiece, which stands 12 feet high, shows the seasons, the stars in constellation and numerous other interesting and historical sights.

Another attraction will be two Indians from the far west, who in full view of visitors will engage in weaving fantastically shaped baskets.

ONE DROWNED; THREE RESCUED

Young Men in a Skiff Were Caught in Current and Went Over Herrs Island Dam.

VICTIMS HAVE FIGHT FOR LIFE

James Ackley of Warren, O., Seemed on the Point of Getting Ashore When He Went Down—Others Had Narrow Escapes.

Caught in the swift current of the Allegheny river at the north side of Herrs Island dam yesterday afternoon, about 6:40 o'clock, a skiff containing four men was overturned, drowning one of the party, James H. Ackley, aged 22, an engraver and painter, of Warren, O. The three others, John C. and Walter C. White, brothers, aged 22 and 19 respectively, and Ralph Carter, aged 18, all of Washington, Pa., were rescued after much difficulty by three separate persons and taken to engine house No. 8, River avenue. The drowning happened almost at the same place where just one month ago today four children gave up their lives to the treacherous falls over the traps and wickets.

A telegram announcing the death of young Ackley was the first news his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thaddeus Ackley of Warren, O., had received of their missing son for over two years. His father is a wealthy jeweler of that city and taught his son the trade of engraving. A quarrel, however, sent James Ackley from his home. After spending a while in West Virginia he got work with the Hasel plant, No. 2, a flint glass factory at West Washington, where he met the three men who were with him in the boat yesterday. Last September all four lost their positions through a strike and ever since they have been working as sign painters. For three weeks they have lived at No. 20 Isabella street, the boarding house of Mrs. Fackett.

Started up River in Skiff.

An hour before dusk yesterday the four companions engaged a skiff of John Price at the Sixth street bridge and started up the river. After getting above the dam young Ackley, who held one pair of oars, cried to the others to get into "the foam." As the bow drew nearer the danger mark John Sanduski, who sat on the shore cried: "Don't go any nearer." But the noise of the water drowned his voice.

Before he had time to yell the second time the boat had been caught near the wickets and all four plunged into the water. Sanduski immediately set out in a boat.

He first reached and rescued John White. Then Sanduski rowed nearer the falls. Walter, White's brother, had thrice risen, but each time fell again, but the fourth time he was turned sidewise and drifted about 30 feet down stream. Before Sanduski could reach him a second party of rescuers, composed of Jack Lyon, Joseph Clifford and Walter Wright, picked him up.

Carter, more fortunate than the others, struck a sand bar and was taken to shore by John Kester, a third rescuer. None of these men, it is said, could swim and for that reason little attention was paid to Ackley, who once in the water turned his nose toward shore and by strong strokes was bringing himself nearer and nearer to safety.

Crowd Watched Death Struggle.

From one spectator grew a crowd of 1,000 breathless people who lined the shore at River avenue and Pine street, watching the work of the rescuers and the efforts of Ackley to save himself unaided. After three men had found their places in as many boats the spectators were inclined to applaud, but something in the struggles of Ackley held their attention. He was fighting against odds. Once he seemed to pause, but as soon again he was surging through the boiling-like water and there was not a soul on the shore but who thought his strength would bring him to land.

A lap of a wave, a tangled broken line of muddy foam and the bobbing head was gone. The second of expectancy and hope grew to minutes and then hours, until the cheerless crowd, dispersed by a spattering rain, gave way to the men with the grappling hooks.

The searching party, headed by Sergeant George Born of No. 1 patrol station, Allegheny, was composed of Ike Wheever and Will Super. They were the same men who grappled for the bodies of the two Brown boys, Edna Shipley and Joseph Buige, who lost their lives at the opening of the dam a month ago. Up to a late hour last night the body had not been recovered. The rescued men were clothed at No. 8 fire station and given an abundance of food and drink.

It is presumed that Ackley's body, if recovered, will be taken to his home. He has a brother, Dr. Robert Ackley, an optician, in this city.

SAY BRIBES WERE GIVEN THE HOMESTEAD POLICE

Startling Stories Told Probers. Central Station Books Were Mutilated.

The special committee to probe charges, appointed at the last meeting of Homestead council, received word last night that officers had been given bribes by the keepers of disorderly houses for protection. Irregularities were found in the manner of keeping records in the Central station, and records were mutilated to hide certain arrests, but the committee failed to fix the blame absolutely. The officers testified that leaves were torn from the books by persons formerly arrested, who wished to hide the fact. With the missing leaves went all records of forfeits, as well as arrests, but all the police denied having received forfeits and retaining them.

The charges of having given money to the police were made by Mrs. Goodman, who was recently arrested for keeping a disorderly house. She alleges that Morris Goldman and his wife, the owners of the premises, brought her to Homestead to open the house and has preferred charges against them, which will be heard before Burgess Ross this morning. She also charges two policemen with having received money from her for protection during the time raids were in progress, but refused to name the persons.

The special committee is composed of H. E. Johns, John F. Hill, H. J. Daibler, Thomas Dixon tnd P. J. Nau.

Junk Dealer Was Arrested.

William Wimmer, a junk dealer of No. 204 Ross street, was arrested yesterday on suspicion of receiving stolen goods. The arrest was made after Policeman James C. Connors had talked with two boys, John Spratt and John Cunningham, who admitted they had stolen a quantity of brass from the Henderson-Johnson Commercial Company and the Keystone Commercial Company on the South Side. The boys said they sold the brass to Wimmer.

THE ESTIMATE FOR FILTRATION

Why Director E. M. Bigelow's Is Expected to Exceed the Available Funds.

BOND ISSUE MADE NECESSARY

Former Director McCandless' Estimate Already Increased Cost by $1,119,000. Finance Committee to Consider Bond Issue Ordinance for That Amount.

Nine new cases of typhoid fever were reported to the Pittsburgh bureau of health yesterday.

The councilmanic committee on finance has been called to meet on Tuesday, the first session to be held after the summer vacation and previous to the first fall meeting of councils on September 15. The finance committee has many ordinances and resolutions to consider. It is not thought that Director Edward M. Bigelow will make any report on the cost of the proposed filtration system until the first meeting of councils, but it is already asserted that the estimates will place the cost of providing filtered water to the entire city at at least $4,000,000, which, of course, would necessitate a bond issue.

Among the ordinances that will come before the finance committee is one that provides for submitting to the people a proposition to vote on a bond issue of $1,219,000 for filtration purposes. This ordinance has been before councils for nearly a year. It was originally introduced on September 8, 1902. Last spring it was referred to the special councilmanic committee on filtration and by it was recommended to be referred to the finance committee.

The original bond issue for filtration was $2,500,000, the amount estimated to be the cost of a filtration plant. There was so much delay that the prices of labor and materials rose materially in cost and the former director of public works, Dr. J. Guy McCandless, supplied new estimates, placing the cost at a good deal more than the original estimate. The ordinance for a new bond issue of $1,219,000 was then introduced in councils and was referred to the finance committee.

Then the advocates for mechanical filtration got to work, a special committee of five was appointed, and that committee prepared new estimates, bringing the cost of a filtration plant to about $5,000,000. The new bond issue resolution has been taken from the finance and referred to the special committee, but it dodged the issue, recommending that the ordinance be referred back to the finance committee. This was just before the summer vacation of councils. Since then Director Bigelow has been busy preparing filtration plans and estimates.

The special committee recommended that covers be used over the filter beds, and this item was the one that increased the committee's estimate of cost so much. Mr. Bigelow has not said whether he will recommend the use of filter beds, but it is asserted that whether he does recommend them or not his estimates will be so large that the money on hand, about $2,250,000, will not be sufficient and that another bond issue will be necessary. A bond issue for the removal of the hump will be required, too, and it is possible that the administration will therefore be induced the easier also to recommend a bond issue for filtration purposes.

At any rate the director will have an excuse for increasing the estimates, for the former administration had already recommended a $1,219,000 increase, as evidenced by Director McCandless' revised estimates and the ordinances for the new bond issue.

Therefore, if there should be any public objections to the increased cost of Director Begelow's estimates the new administration could point to the fact that the previous administraion had already put up the cost $1,219,000, and that $1,000,000 or so added on to that amount is not such a great increase as would appear on a superficial view.

SMALLPOX RECORD WAS ECLIPSED YESTERDAY

Two Deaths and 16 New Cases in Pittsburgh—Allegheny Is Being Disinfected.

Two deaths from smallpox and 16 new cases of the disease were reported to the Pittsburgh bureau of health yesterday, establishing a new high record on the books of the bureau. On Tuesday of this week the record was broken with 15 cases and one death. Superintendent G. Wash Moore of the health bureau says he cannot understand why there are so many cases reported, as the bureau is doing all in its power to prevent the spread of the disease.

The deaths reported were William Loughery, aged 50 years, of No. 1818 Given street, and an infant named Shelton, aged 3 years, of No. 6006 Beitler street, the latter being a new case reported yesterday. The other new cases reported were:

John Hance, a negro, aged 34 years, of No. 1094 Wheeler street; William G. Nixon, aged 24 years, of No. 3227 Dickson street; John Harris, a negro, aged 30 years, of No. 3210 Mulberry alley; Bertha Gilgan, aged 26 years, of No. 2822 Bedford avenue; D. W. Close, aged 23 years, of No. 2617 Wylie avenue; Mary Spookarski, aged 5 years, of No. 2730 Penn avenue; Michael Corbett, aged 32 years, of No. 4417 Butler street; Elizabeth Carroll, aged 18 years, of No. 4417 Mifflin street; William Richards, aged 3 years, of No. 4216 Mifflin street; Catherine Donavan, aged 28 year, of No. 317 Edmond street; Benjamin Chalmers, aged 21 years, of No. 23 Oakland square; Daniel Clark, aged 26 years, of No. 4218 Mifflin street; Mrs. Mary Fife, aged 40 years, of No. 168 Forty-third street; Glenn Irwin, aged 34 years, of No. 5809 Broad street; Edward A. Zimmerman, aged 24 years, of No. 5420 Penn avenue.

Armed with disinfectant shooters and carbolic acid soap, 16 men are now working under Superintendent J. A. McLaughlin of the Allagheny bureau of health, to prevent the spread of smallpox. The force of men has been suddenly increased after being judiciously cut down to four men. At that time there was a falling off in new cases and the old ones were slowly recovering. McLaughlin has now asked for still more men and supplies. In the Charles street district about a dozen agents of the bureau were at work yesterday, going from house to house, supplying solutions of disinfectants and cakes of soap.

One death was reported at the Allegheny Municipal hospital yesterday of smallpox. The victim was Lilly Linkner of No. 9 Sarah street. She was taken to the hospital August 19. A new case was found yesterday in the Federal street extension, two doors from Linden avenue, the victim being Miss Margaret McConnell. The total number of cases now in Allegheny is 35.

Five cases of smallpox were reported from Ben Avon yesterday morning. Four of them are new cases. They are all in one colored family and the four new cases are said to have been contracted from the fifth member of the family, who was taken ill two weeks ago. Dr. Thomas Miller said that the new cases were varioloid and that he thought there was no danger of the disease spreading. The borough has taken stringent measures, everybody in the neighborhood of the affected house having been vaccinated and there is small danger of the malady spreading.

There were 125 deaths reported to the Pittsburgh bureau of health during the week ending August 22. Smallpox caused 13 deaths and 39 cases of the disease were reported to the bureau.

A new case of smallpox was discovered in Wilkinsburg last evening. Charles Brown, employed in a laundry in the Colonial building, was discovered to have the disease. He was removed to the pest house.

Fur Selling Yesterday Was at the Enthusiastic Point.

The call was for Fur Coats more than small furs—Seal Coats, Near-Seal Coats and Persian Lamb Coats. Women who had the assurance of a fur coat this winter nudged the purse carrier that now was the best time to buy—at least 40 per cent saved. And thus it was that we had a run on fur coats.

Our bond, as given below, goes with each sale—

All Furs purchased now, whether finest or of least intrinsic value, and found not to be fully up to what we say of them—in other words if unsatisfactory—can be returned in October and the price will be refunded or an exchange made.

The two great specials today are the Persian and Seal Coats for these interesting prices

Persian Lamb Coats, $90.00.

The value guaranteed to be fully worth $150, and that figure is sure to be the selling price in October.

These coats are of deep lustrous fine curl skins, Leipzig dye, new Fall model.

There are but 10 of them offered at the price of $90 each. The woman buying one of these coats can have it exchanged or taken back before October 17, if it is unsatisfactory.

Alaska Seal Coats, $200.00.

Worth all of $300 and will be sold for that price in October and through the season.

Nothing but best Alaska Seal employed in the making, lengths 22 and 24 inches, sizes to fit all forms.

Style of coat: box front, storm collar, large revers, deep turnback cuff.

If not satisfactory, exchange or money back.

Electric and Near-Seal Coats.

Made on the same patterns and by the same class of workmen who make our Alaska seal coats—lining all of guaranteed satin—advance style—short sheared skins, lustrous, dense and as heavily furred as skill and labor can produce—lengths are 22 and 24 inches.

Prices for the X grade, $28.00 each.
Prices for the XX grade, $33.00 each.
Prices for the XXX grade, $38.00 each.

A XXX grade with sable squirrel collar and revers, a very striking coat, is priced at $60.00.

The Furs Denominated as Small Furs.

Just as important as the coats—don't overlook them, for the saving is proportionate—as much so on the $7 squirrel scarf as on the $200 coat.

Never a time for buying Scarf, or Boa, or Collar, or Pelerine as the present.

Single skin Isabella Fox Scarfs, two brush tails and four paws, $9.00; with two brush tails and four small tails, $10.00; better grades at $12.75 and $15.00 and $20.00.

Experience with the wireless telegraph in connection with the yacht races has not raised it in popular favor. The first day it worked well. Tuesday it was much interfered with by shore disturbances. It suffered some yesterday. However, it will not do to condemn it on this evidence. It is a very new thing. The inventors may find ways and means to avoid present annoyances when they learn more about the Hertz waves and the interrupters.

Europe will not fail to take note of the promptness with which the United States has acted in the matter of the Turkish outrage at Beirut. Russia spent several days in thought before despatching its fleet from Sebastopol across the Black sea to Iniada. The United States has not lost a minute. President Roosevelt was informed of the assassination of the vice consul yesterday afternoon. Last evening Admiral Cotton had his first final orders to proceed with all speed. If Abdul Hamid is not impressed by the vigor displayed in making and backing the demand for satisfaction, he will be by the vigor with which the demand is enforced.

In the light breeze that prevented completion of the race yesterday Reliance again showed her marked superiority over Shamrock III. in that sort of weather. Obviously Sir Thomas Lipton's chance to capture one race lies in the possibility of a fresh wind. It is not a certainty that he could win under those conditions, for Reliance might develop rough weather qualities; but the experience of four trials indicates that as the one chance for the challenger. It is true Sir Thomas declared his new boat to be designed for light winds, but it has proven less a match for the defender under such conditions than with a good breeze on the three-leg course. The America's cup is almost sure to remain in this country indefinitely.

Superintendent McLaughlin of the Allegheny health bureau would do well to avoid further controversy with Dr. Batt and concentrate his attention on the task of stopping the spread of smallpox. The state quarantine physician has conferred a great service to the community by stirring up the inefficient municipal administration of both cities to a proper conception of their duties. Since his visit here there has been a marked improvement of method both in Pittsburgh and Allegheny. The Pittsburgh health superintendent has been scared out of his interference with quarantine regulations, and the work of the department is being better performed. It is to be hoped that Dr. Batt will stay here and maintain close observation of the situation.

Councilman Stevenson has taken timely action in calling a meeting of the special committee appointed to investigate the management of the health bureau. Lack of competency or mismanagement in that bureau may cost the city a great deal in money and cost the community a great deal in human life. It is a notorious fact that the superintendent of that bureau was pitched into the office not because of any fitness for it, but because Director Bigelow wouldn't have him in the department of public works where it had been originally intended to place him. Fully six months ago Controller Larkin demanded an investigation, but it has been staved off in one way or another. A member of the investigating committee who has been a chronic absentee and who has manifested settled opposition to any investigation is a Republican—John Upperman, No. 3443 Butler street, member of select council from the Fifteenth ward.

In the war game at Portland the navy has been theoretically destroyed, losing 17 vessels. That accords with military traditions about the ineffectiveness of naval forces against land fortifications, though in actual warfare the floating forts might inflict more serious injury than in the mimic kind. It will be remembered, however, that at Santiago our fleet did not succeed in doing much damage to the forts. It silenced batteries of obsolete guns temporarily, but the forts when surrendered were in good condition. The use of a navy is to destroy another navy, to safely convoy troop ships or to intercept the troop ships of an enemy. Even at Manila Admiral Dewey inflicted no great injury upon the Cavite forts, though he frightened them so by the quick destruction of the Spanish ships that they made no serious resistance when troops were brought into play. The American coast defenses are more efficient than were the Spanish forts, so there is some point to the satirical telegram of congratulations from the "South Potomac squadron" engaged in "preventing the escape of Prof. Langley's airship," to Acting Secretary of the Navy Darling.

It is not a matter to be proud of that every cell in the Allegheny county jail is occupied. But it is better that the malefactors are there than out preying upon the community. Crime has increased during late years fully in proportion to the increase in population. The jail that was ample ten years ago is barely sufficient now. But it will hardly be necessary to make additions for a few years more. The new county detective force has begun to lessen the exhibition of criminal disposition in the rural districts and experience should do something for the city police to make them less attractive to crooks of various grades. Besides special influences have operated to increase the pressure upon jail space just at this time.

A recommendation has been formulated by the conference committee of the Veterans' Civic league on district attorney. It will be given careful consideration by Republican voters. The choice of the committee cannot be given a place on the Republican ticket off-hand as the fusion candidates were nominated, but he will have a fair chance in open primaries and if nominated will almost certainly be elected. Mr. Bigelow's party has given the old soldier no consideration whatever. It has simply thrown him out of office and filled his place with a serviceable political worker, regardless of statute or sentiment.

The Outrage at Beirut.

The United States has now a grievance against Turkey of the same character which prompted the recent naval demonstration by Russia, and we do not doubt that our government will act as energetically. Our vice consul at Beirut, Syria, was assassinated on Sunday. He is an American, a native of Minnesota, the son of a prominent Lutheran minister. Immediate demand has been made upon the Turkish government for exemplary punishment of the crime and Admiral Cotton, commanding the European squadron, has been instructed to proceed to Beirut with all speed and enforce the demands made by our government.

If any disposition to wait upon Turkey was shown the authorities at Constantinople would take their time. They are adepts in promise and procrastination. Even Russia, whom Turkey fears more than any other nation, had actually to concentrate a fleet upon the Turkish coast before Turkey would act, but submission then was immediate, complete and unconditional. Austria, some time ago, had to pursue the same course, sending a fleet to occupy a port and hold the customs house, but when this intention was known the Turkish government made haste to settle the Austrian claim. It will expedite a settlement now that our government pursues a similar policy and sends a fleet to Beirut to let the people there understand that the United States has the power to compel respect for the national flag and the national representatives in every quarter of the world, however remote. There will be general confidence that the administration will do everything needful to sustain American prestige. The president's order to Admiral Cotton is a good beginning, and it is not to be supposed that Mr. Roosevelt will leave any other needful vigorous measure unapplied.

The Pledge to Cuba.

Opponents of an extra session of congress fail to recall that the president pledged himself to Cuba to assemble congress not later than November. This pledge was given after the United States senate had ratified the Cuban reciprocity treaty with the proviso that it should not become effective until after it had been ratified by the house of representatives. It was to prevent the rejection of the amended treaty by the Cuban senate that the president gave the assurance, and it goes without saying that the fulfillment of the promise so made involves the nation's good faith. Promises are not made to be broken by presidents of the United States, and President Roosevelt is no pledge breaker in either his private or his public capacity. Therefore an extra session of congress may be considered to be "as sure as fate." That the president adheres to his determination to call congress to meet not later than November will not be doubted by anyone who knows him or who has observed his course, but for the benefit of any who might need proof, it may be pointed out that this appeared the other day in the correspondence with Secretary Root relative to the latter's retirement from the cabinet. In his letter to the president, Secretary Root pointed out that the name of his successor might be sent to the senate for confirmation in November, and the president acquiesced in the suggestion by accepting Mr. Root's resignation to take effect on his successor's appointment and confirmation. Talk of an earlier date than November for the extra session is not associated with the necessities of Cuba, but arose in connection with the prospect that the session might be taken advantage of for submission of currency reform legislation. Differences on this point have clouded the prospect for an October session, but the president's pledge to Cuba requires that there be a session in November so that the house of representatives may act on the reciprocity treaty in time to extend its benefits to this year's sugar crop.

Not So Big a Boss as That.

Harper's Weekly takes an exalted view of the powers which Senator Gorman will wield as the Democratic leader in the senate. It does not think that congress can adjourn until he gives his permission, and thinks it quite probable that his ideas on the subject will overrule those of the president and other leaders of the Republican party. Hence it doubts whether congress will be able to adjourn before the meeting of the national conventions, because "Senator Gorman can prevent such an adjournment if he chooses, and from a strategic point of view it may be expedient for him to do so."

In expressing this opinion Harper's Weekly has in mind the inability of the senate to control its own proceedings. So far as that body is concerned it is at the mercy of any of its members who are interested in obstructing action about anything, and if the senate were master of the situation Senator Gorman could undoubtedly determine the length of the session. But Harper's Weekly errs in imagining that the concurrence of the senate is absolutely necessary to adjournment. Such is not the case. The president may, if necessary, compel adjournment of both houses of congress under provision of section 3 of Article II. of the Constitution, which provides that "in case of disagreement between them, with respect to the time of adjournment, he may adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper."

It is, therefore, within the power of the house of representatives to settle the matter, irrespective of Senator Gorman's policy, by fixing a date of adjournment and adhering to it. If the senate fails to agree, then the president can make the decision of the house effectual in spite of the senate, by himself adjourning congress. The Democratic minority in the senate may endeavor to embarass the government by holding up appropriation bills, but everything possible to be done in that direction was done by the Democratic party during President Hayes' administration, and the hurt done to the public service reacted terribly upon the Democratic party, crushing it at the polls. Senator Gorman is entirely too shrewd to make the senatorial hold-up an issue of the national campaign, and he has no power to prevent the adjournment of congress at the time the leaders of the Republican party may select.

Gen. Miles' Letter.

Barring the sneer about holding the cavalry in Florida during the Cuban campaign, the last report and recommendations of Lieut.-Gen. Nelson A. Miles are entitled to careful consideration. They stand for progress. Though the Boer war caused a general movement toward increasing the number of mounted men in the military establishments of this and other countries there is room to doubt the wisdom of it. Undoubtedly mounted riflemen were well adapted to South African conditions, where mobility of the columns was of paramount importance owing to the vast reaches of territory involved—rough territory not suited to carriage travel.

Gen. Miles' first recommendation is to equip one-third of the cavalry with motor cycles and automobiles, and he makes the prediction that the next great conflict will be an "automobile war." The motor car suggests so many ideas in warfare that it will be strange, indeed, if it does not play a part in future military operations. Thus a car occupied by two men, armed with rifles, might carry in addition a rapid-fire machine gun. A corps of such machines would be destruction incarnate. As for mobility the machines might cover longer distances at higher speed than would be possible with horses. One hundred miles a day would be easy progress under favorable conditions and men and machines would arrive ready for action. Not so with man and horse after a hard day's travel.

Gen. Miles' second recommendation is to detail a portion of the army to co-operate with states or counties in the construction of good roads. This fits in with the automobile idea. With a system of military roads throughout the country the mobility of the motor division would be incomparably greater than that of the horse cavalry. Incidentally the country would be benefited in times of peace by the use of good roads. A division of army road builders would give an impetus to viatecture that is much needed in the rural districts, so that in addition to the military main roads we might expect to find many improved byways in the course of a decade or two. These, in turn, might prove valuable for military operations under certain circumstances, for it is not conceivable that the system of military roads would give easy access to every locality that might have to be invested by troops.

In conclusion it may be said it is a pity that Gen. Miles has introduced the controversial tone in this last official communication, before his retirement, to the war department. It mars a document that is otherwise full of valuable suggestions, manifestly the outcome of serious thought and ripe experience. Gen. Miles has been a gallant fighter and at times a valuable counsellor who deserves the respect and admiration of his country, but he has unfortunately permitted himself to fall into a chronic habit of antagonism toward other portions of the military establishment. It would be good if he could only let the people forget his vanity while they remember his many distinguished services.

A Jewish State.

Discussions at the Zionist conference at Basle, Switzerland, and statements made by a number of the leaders reveal the new trend of Zionism. The first conference, also at Basle, in 1897, was the fruit of a world-wide agitation among Jews for the restoration of the Jewish state in Palestine. The new spirit is eliminating the Zionist feature—the return of the race to Zion—and is substituting therefor a spirit of nationalism, which is less regardful of the geographical rallying point of the Jewish race than of the establishment of a foothold for Jewish nationality. The announced purpose of the first conference at Basle was "to create for the Jewish people a public, legally assured home in Palestine." The present conference or congress finds Jewish sentiment in the United States and in England much more aroused but also finds the delegates from all quarters considering with interest, instead of a return to Zion, an unofficial offer from an official of the British government of a large tract of land on which to found an autonomous Jewish state in East Africa under British sovereignty. The Zionist movement was born of persecutions of Jews in European countries, notably Russia. It has been nourished and stimulated by laws in those countries discriminating against the Jewish race, and it has been developed by circumstances into a nationalist rather than a purely Zionist movement. Undoubtedly events at Kishineff have had much to do with giving direction to the expressions of the present conference at Basle in favor of a Judaistic state, no matter where, rather than a return to Zion. It was in this vein that Israel Zangwill talked after the Kishineff massacre, pointing out that the Jews were without defense and without a future in Europe as a people, and that they need an autonomous state somewhere from which to speak for the rights of Jews elsewhere and to afford them a refuge from oppression. In the United States and in England Jewish nationalism is largely a sentiment; elsewhere it is much more, and the discussions at Basle indicate that sentiment and hope may find practical realization. It would be an interesting experiment, at least, the founding of a Jewish state in East Africa.

A little inconsistency such as the nomination of a silver man for governor and a gold man for United States senator merely illuminates the versatility of the boss of the Tom Johnson circus. His honor, the mayor of Cleveland, is willing not only to essay the task of riding two horses going in opposite directions, but the even more difficult one of riding a whole bunch trying to scatter.

An extra-conscientious correspondent reports that the hailstones which fell near Jamestown, in Mercer county, Pa., were as large as birds' eggs, which is, of course, inclusive of all sizes from humming bird's to ostrich's eggs. This is an original idea and an improvement on the practice of striking an average to make the comparison with the product of the harmless necessary hen.

When Judge Wood of the Arkansas supreme court, who is opposing the election of Gov. Davis for a third term, knocked the governor off the speakers' platform, he made it apparent to everybody that he was determined to have a hand in the campaign.

There is just a little more poetry than truth in the declaration of Representative Overstreet of Indiana that the "little flurry in Wall street" did not cause "as much commotion in industrial and financial circles as the falling of an autumn leaf." No harm done, however.

If we knew whether it is the army or the navy that sends out the war reports from the New England coast we could tell more about what is really happening to whom it may concern.

In the pressure of other matters Reed Smoot seems to have faded away into oblivion, and even to have pulled it in after him.

Perhaps Mr. Johnson had the Kansas City platform indorsed so that he can blame it for what happens in November.

IN THE EYE OF FAME.

United States Ambassador Clayton has returned to Mexico from his trip to the United States. He is in poor health.

The Hon. Albert Ware Paine of Bangor, Me., has passed his 91st birthday, but is still active in the practice of his profession, the law. He is also president of the Maine Telegraph Company.

H. Jenner-Fust, captain of the first Cambridge cricket eleven that played against Oxford, is still living, at the age of 97 years. The match was played in 1825, and he is the sole survivor of the players on both sides.

Alfonso XIII. of Spain expects to visit Paris in the autumn, and the Spanish ambassador to the French capital will go to San Sebastian, the Spanish summer capital, about September 1, to confer with the Spanish premier in regard to the visit.

The Rt. Rev. Mgr. O'Reilly, prothonotary apostolic, an intimate of Pope Pius IX. and the late Leo XIII., is a recluse at Mount Saint Vincent. He lives in the "castle" built by Edwin Forrest, the tragedian. On September 23 he will reach his 96th year.

INTERRUPTED MEDITATION.

On a hill near the river,
Near the damn' Roarin' river,
When the corn was in tassel
And the squashes were expanding
As expands this bloomin' country,
Sat the chieftain Holy Moses
In the shadow of a bowlder
Giving a good imitation
Of a fragrant brand of Injun
In a state of rumination.
With his eyes he swept the valley,
Gazed upon the homes of settlers,
Heard the lowing of the cattle
And the cackle of the chickens
Over eggs they had accomplished,
Saw the hired man snoozing under
Spreading trees of jack-oak, working
By the day at goin' wages.
In the breast of Holy Moses
Rose a sigh so big he belched it,
And his dusty forehead winkled
'Neath the force of his reflections,
Till his scalplock and his eyebrows
Seemed to contemplate a fusion.
Of the past the chief was thinking,
Of the days when in the valley,
Ere the paleface was invented
He was high glasticutus;
When there were no golden wheat fields,
When no stalks of corn were waving,
When his dusky, warlike people
Raised but smoke-tanned kids and gheel.
Suddenly, as rent by passion,
Sprang to his feet and uttered
Yells 'twould stop an auto-devil,
And he danced in wild gyrations
Danced the war and scalp and sun dance,
Tangled into one, and slapped he
At the fullness of his breechcloth.
Then toward the valley started
Hitting but the highest places
In the rugged mountain landscape,
Brandished both his hands about him
As a dreamer with the jimjams.
Was his bosom fired with anger?
Did he go to seek for vengeance
On the paleface who'd intruded
On his lands? Nay, nay, Pauline,
Not upon your golden tresses.
Holy Moses had been sitting
On a nest of yellow jackets.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

I speak the truth, not so much as I would, but as much as I dare; and I dare a little more as I grow older. —Montaigne.

Maybe you think it is the proper thing to speak the truth always.

If so, do you do it?

Speak the truth whenever you speak at all, but there are times when the truth had better not be spoken. These are the times for you not to speak at all.

Just take your own case. Would you care to have all said about yourself that might be said truthfully? Montaigne once said:

"There is no man so good who, were he to submit all his thoughts and actions to the laws, would not deserve hanging ten times in his life."

A man is the greatest miracle ever seen on earth, unless it is a woman.

And isn't it wonderful—amazingly wonderful—what can be done with these miracles, or what they can do with themselves? And yet, the miracles they are, their natures are subject to law, and their characters may be wrought into an endless and mystifying variety of shapes.

Man is what nature made him, and yet he is a creature of environment, discipline and training. Taken well in hand at the start, he shows well in the finish.

* * * * *

If you want to know how to train a boy ask an old bachelor.

There are very few bachelors, or old maids, who do not consider themselves authorities on rearing children. They have formulated theories, which, if followed carefully, cannot fail in developing almost any sort of a boy into a great man—so they think.

It is a fact that many of the most pretentious works on training the young have been written by unmarried or childless persons. These books read well, and the theories presented are very plausible.

They would work like a charm were it not for the fact that not one boy in a thousand is built to conform to any known theory of training.

Parents know from experience that a boy is a boy, and that's all they know about him until he begins to develop. He is like a seedling apple tree—you never know what kind of fruit he is going to yield until he matures. You may submit him to any or all the theories you choose, yet do nothing more than hasten his maturity.

By keeping the tree healthy, stray shoots pruned off and the roots well protected from borers and ground mice, you can greatly improve the appearance of the apples, but this will not materially affect their flavor. If, perchance, they prove good in quality they are all the better for their good looks.

* * * * *

This comparison may not strike you as being strictly fair, but comparisons seldom are, because no two things can be exactly similar without being exactly alike in every respect. A boy is not precisely like an apple tree, yet it serves to hang a theory on.

You will argue that the boy inherits many qualities from his parents. So he does, but these may be combined in such way as to produce a man unlike his father or mother in taste, disposition and even personal appearance.

The seedling apple tree inherits many qualities from the parent apple, but they don't happen to be so combined as to yield the same kind of apples. It is to this peculiarity of seedlings that we owe our almost endless variety of fruits.

May it not be to the operation of a similar law that we are indebted for the great variety in taste, mental and moral qualities in the human family?

If the apple tree happens to yield bad fruit you can cut its limbs off and graft into it cuttings or buds from trees of approved quality which will yield fruit similar to that of the tree from which they were taken.

This shows that the quality of the fruit does not depend upon the physical qualities of the tree. The same sap that nourishes the sour apple nourishes the sweet one. No man has yet determined from whence the apple gets its flavor, the rose its color, nor the [illegible] its poison.

You cannot apply the grafting process to the boy as you do to the tree—at least it has not been done.

* * * * *

Yet who knows but the time may come when by grafting brain matter the good qualities of one person will be transferred to another? The skin of frogs has been made to grow on man, and the bones of a dog to unite with those of a boy.

Were such a grafting process in vogue we could continue the quality of Patti's voice indefinitely, and even improve on it, because it often happens that fruit borne on grafts is superior in quality to that borne on the tree from which the graft was taken.

Every variety of genius could be transmitted in the same way.

It was held by scientists of long ago that transfusion of blood would accomplish this end, but they might have known better if they had noted the results that followed the transfusion of sap which necessarily takes place in the process of grafting. Transfusion of sap does not cause any material physical changes in the graft, as is shown by grafting peach or plum or cherry or apricot.

The fruit bearing parts must be bodily transplanted if we expect to obtain the desired product.

Now, what are you going to do with your boy?

Will you do as the nurseryman does with seedling apple sprouts: attend him carefully, nourish and protect him from influences that tend to check a healthy development, or mar his qualities of life, be they what they may?

Or, will you allow him to grow up like a weed, and trust to the grafting process to secure good fruit?

A great many take this course. They select professions for their sons while they are yet in short clothes, fully believing that they can graft law, medicine, theology, art or statecraft into them after having finished this schooling and sown their wild oats. You are probably aware that this is the common practice; or, you may have done the same thing yourself.

* * * * *

Have you ever known anyone to become a successful musician who had no natural taste for it?

Are successful lawyers made out of every and any sort of material?

Can you beat sufficient art into the soul of a boy to enable him to paint a picture?

Is it possible to teach one to write poetry, or to become an orator?

In short is it possible to beat anything into the soul of a boy?

You may beat the good nature out of him, spoil his disposition, disgust him with life, and allow unfavorable conditions to interfere with his growth, but you can't change the bent of his genius.

The apple must have a fair field in which to grow, must be protected from injuries and kept clear of poison vines in order to secure healthy and perfect fruit.

* * * * *

Don't jump to the conclusion that nothing can be done for the boy. He may be a real little savage, but he has still all the elements of a man in him, and we must see that they are allowed to develop naturally and to their fullest extent.

The first thing is to start him to growing nicely, see that he is not shaded too much from the bright sunlight of home, keep borers and poisonous vines away from him, nip bad habits in the bud, and do not try to hasten maturity. A healthy body is always indicative of pure blood, a good supply of physical energy and mental vigor.

After he has grown into young manhood, and has mastered the rudiments of education, he should be allowed to indulge his tastes in order to determine which are the stronger.

* * * * *

Instead of forcing the boy into a set course in college give him just such a course as corresponds to his tastes and encourage him to excel in them—not in rushing through, but in thoroughness.

The line of least resistance is the line of his natural tastes. According to certain fixed laws of nature he will make greater progress along any other. His labors will be pleasant and their results enjoyable.

If he shows no decided tastes, then encourage him to engage in that which he can do best and with most profit for the amount of energy expended.

To educate a boy is to develop his natural talents, and not to pump him full of book knowledge.

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—It does not astonish anybody that there have been many squabbles on board Shamrock III. while that unlucky craft was having the tar licked out of her by Reliance. Nothing else could be expected. When ill luck comes it is human nature for each participant to throw the blame upon his neighbor. Capt. Wringe seems to believe that if Fife had designed the yacht on speedier lines and had fitted her with better sails it would have been easier for him to keep abreast of Reliance, if not to beat her; while Fife is convinced that a smarter sailing master than Wringe would have sent his boat ahead in better time. This is the situation in outline. As trimmings to the main dispute there are rumors that some of the crew on Shamrock III. are traitors and have been trying to prevent their boat winning. To all of these stories Sir Thomas is represented as turning an incredulous ear. He will not admit that men employed by him could be disloyal and if it is not his luck to lift the cup, why he will return to England with the opinion that he did the best he could and that his men are all as honestly disappointed as he is himself. To the ordinary observer it is suggestive that while Sir Thomas Lipton has the reputation of being a good-natured, easy-going fellow, Mr. Iselin, managing owner of Reliance, is known to be particularly sharp as a business man, who ever has an eye to his own interests. If any man on Reliance was suspected of disloyalty the probability is that he would have been kicked out without a chance of explanation. Sir Thomas would have been lenient. That is the difference.

Weary of One-Sided Race.

"I wish it were all over." That is the general sentiment about the yacht race in Manhattan tonight. We are all tired of it, particularly since it became evident that it would be of such a one-handed nature. Of what use is it to hear the horrible details so long as it is known that one boat is being steadily beaten while the other is winning so easily that it is uninteresting.

New Pope's Photograph in Demand.

A Broadway dealer in photographs of public personages said to me this afternoon that the sale of portraits of Pope Pius X. was larger than of any prominent man in 10 years. He explained this to some extent by the fact that the patriarch Sarto was an unknown person before the college of cardinals elected him to the papal throne, and that there was absolutely no demand for his photos on this side of the ocean and very little in Italy. Now photos are coming to New York by the thousand with such a steady sale that the supply hardly equals the demand. As showing the vanity of human greatness, there is no sale for photographs of Leo XIII. or Pius IX., although in their lifetimes portraits of both pontiffs were sought as eagerly as those of Pius X. are today. Not only are copies of the pope's latest portraits bought up but pictures of him when he was a simple priest are being reproduced in large numbers, many of which come to this country.

Big Guns Missing from Usual Haunts.

Hardly anything is doing in Wall street matters in the corridor of the Waldorf-Astoria these evenings. Most of the brokers who used to assemble in the billiard room and gentlemen's restaurant at the Astoria end of the big hotel are spending their leisure time in the country, while several well-known figures in finance are in Europe or at Saratoga. But there will be a change soon. By the middle of September, if the weather is cool, there will be the old crowds back in the corridor, and one will be able to forecast pretty accurately the condition of the market on the morrow by the gossip to be heard in the Waldorf-Astoria restaurant at night.

A Well-Informed Personage.

If you have occasion to visit the Waldorf-Astoria you cannot but be struck by the certainty with which the man behind the partition in the office can tell you about almost anyone of the thousands of guests, especially if he happens to be at all prominent. There are books and records of all kinds, of course, but the average clerk knows without looking at his books whether such a person is in the hotel, what time he went out, when he is likely to be back, and pretty much everything about him that his family would be likely to know. There is a room clerk in the Waldorf-Astoria who is simply a wonder in his encyclopedic information on all matters pertaining to his department.

An Ancient Trick Played Again.

One of those ancient swindles which make their reappearance periodically has turned up in Manhattan. A man in his shirt sleeves and hatless, with a pen behind his ear, rushes hastily into a business house after banking hours and says that his firm, mentioning a neighboring concern, is making up its payroll and finds itself a little short of money. "Will you oblige the firm by cashing a small check?" The check is for less than $100, and in nearly every case is cashed forthwith. The young man is seen to go into the house he says he is from, but when inquiries are made later, it is found that he is not connected with it. He makes some excuse for going in without his hat, and slides out of a back door or some other exit. Michael Dempsey is the name of a young man who was arrested today charged with having got bogus checks cashed at a number of downtown houses. The game is as old as the city, but it works even in these days when done in a slick way.

The Lobby and the Canal.

The public knows that the transcontinental railroads maintain an active lobby in Washington and that these roads will stop at nothing to defeat or delay the building of the canal. Facing the fact that the canal act cannot be construed, under the existing circumstances, to permit anything other than prompt steps toward securing agreements with Costa Rica and Nicaragua preparatory to building through those states, a just inference would be that the railroad lobby is master of the situation.—St. Louis Republic.

The Ohio Democrats.

The Democrats of Ohio have again "reaffirmed" the Populistic and free silver Republican platforms of 1896 and 1900—lashed themselves once more to that political body of death which has twice dragged the party in the nation down to ignominious and deserved defeat, and which the voters of Ohio last year condemned for the seventh time by over 90,000 plurality.—There is absolutely no use in wasting words over the ruminations or further proceedings of Tom Johnson's assemblage of lock-brains. If the voters of Ohio think it worth while to turn out to the election this year the majority against the so-called Democratic ticket will probably be something like 100,000. At least it ought to be.

In Nebraska the poor old party is in even worse plight. Under the leadership of the unteachable Mr. Bryan it has signified its desire for a continuation of the blighting fusion with Populism—an exploded lunacy which, starting with a million voters, has dwindled to next to nothing, and has not a single representative left in either branch of congress or in any state government. Such fatuity can only lead to further "punishment after death" to the remains of the once-powerful Democratic party in the west.—New York World.

* * * *

The Ohio Democrats of Mr. Tom Johnson, who appears to have been in undisputed possession of them, would have done better had they let the last national platform alone. That platform was not Democratic, but Populistic, and it is of vital importance to the party to clear itself from all contagion of Populism. The Ohio platform recites that "we hereby renew our allegiance to the Democratic party of the nation, and again avow our devotion to the principles of its last national platform." But the two things here affirmed are contradictory. No men who renew their allegiance to the Democratic party of the nation have any business avowing devotion to the rank [illegible] of the principles that the Populists fastened upon the party at its last two national conventions.—Philadelphia Record.

* * * *

The error made by the anti-Johnson Democrats of last year, when they permitted Tom Johnson to have full sway at the Cedar Point convention, has borne its legitimate fruit. He could have been beaten then, but having been permitted to entrench himself he has secured full actual control of the machinery of the Democratic party and has demonstrated that he is not to be dislodged. He has beaten his opponents, who failed to break him when they had the opportunity. His "cuckoo" characteristics have stood him in good stead, for his brood have ousted their foster-mother from the nest now that she has reared and fed them to maturity. Under its new leader the new Democracy goes out to conquer and the banner under which they are to fight, no matter how deceptive the others may be, is that "private ownership of land is robbery and the robber must be despoiled by confiscation through taxation."—Cincinnati Times-Star.

* * * *

The Johnson faction being in possession of the Democratic party of Ohio, the erratic "Tom" might loom big for a conspicuous part in the presidential contest next year were it not for the foregone conclusion that the Johnson candidates in the state election will be mauled out of shape by the voters when they get hold of them in November. In recent years Ohio has been so fiercely hostile to Democratic tickets that there is no possibility of Tom Johnson's tactics of any sort succeeding in making much of a dent in the Republican majority. Were the Johnson faction able to make a decent showing in the state campaign this fall, however, he would come very near to being an ideal nominee for the national ticket of the Democrats next year. That we mean, of course, from the Democratic point of view, for he appeals to all the elements of American citizenship which are freakish and, after all, it is when the Democratic party bunches the freaks around it that it courts its votes most strongly.—New York Press.

* * * *

It is a pitiful, pathetic spectacle which the Ohio Democracy present with Tom Johnson, the automobile-band-wagon-circus performer and blatant demagogue, their candidate for governor on the Kansas City platform. * * * Bryanism and Populism are rotten to the core. The intelligence and honesty of the country have crushed the life out of them. They are now showing only a ghostly affection of being alive. The American people, knowing these twin evils were rotten, buried them.

Neither Bryan nor Johnson is conscious of the demise of himself and the issues each represents. The latter will learn the truth, however, on election day in November. Mr. Hanna is sick in bed, and if he should remain there quiescent till the last vote is polled, he would still witness the overwhelming defeat of the [illegible] of Johnson. In fact, the nomination for governor by the Democrats in such a conservative state as Ohio would of itself insure Republican victory. The campaign there will be a crusade by live, honest, patriotic men against the dead issues and the rotten political heresies of Bryanism.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

* * * *

So Johnson is his own candidate on his own platform. No intelligent observer in either party considers the Johnson candidacy as a serious political proposition. His announcement in advance that he does not expect to defeat Col. Herrick is taken at its face value, and the prediction is freely made that the adverse majority will be in the neighborhood of 100,000. Mr. Johnson's second announcement is that by his candidacy for governor he hopes to defeat Mr. Hanna for re-election to the senate. This announcement is not taken at par. On the contrary, it is generally admitted that Johnson's strenuous play this year has been to capture the Ohio organization, looking forward to the naming of national delegates next year and a possible presidential indorsement. Johnson has the organization today. He will have it intact throughout the campaign; but from the standpoint of practical politics what will it avail in the face of overwhelming defeat in November?—Columbus Dispatch.

Favorite Sons.

Nebraska has an aspirant for the Republican nomination for the vice presidency in the person of John L. Webster of Omaha. He is an excellent man, so the country is told, and he may have some chance for the candidacy. The region west of the Mississippi, if it sticks together, will be able to select the nominee. Many of its states—Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, California and others—have favorite sons, but probably some effort at concentration will take place in this section between now and the opening of the convention. Many good men are being mentioned from this quarter, and the party would do well to select one of them. The center of political gravity of the United States has long rested in the Mississippi valley, and the time is close at hand when it will shift to the westward of the big river.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

OBERSCHAL SEEKS DEATH ONCE MORE

EXCITING SCENE IN A WARD

Frenzied German Fought With Nurses, Orderlies and Convalescent Patients, but Was Finally Subdued—Another Arrest Made.

Vladimir Oberschal, the young man who was found with his sweetheart, Helen Ringl, near Hays station Monday, both with bullet wounds in their breasts, and both supposed to be dying, the man having first shot the woman and then himself, made a second desperate effort to end his life at the South Side hospital last night. He attempted to throw himself out of a second-story window and only after an exciting struggle with nurses, orderlies and convalescent patients was the man prevented from dashing his brains out.

Oberschal, since his confinement in the hospital, has been in a frenzied state as the result of the shooting, and which was undoubtedly superinduced by liquor, as Superintendent A. D. Lloyd of the hospital declares the young man was on the verge of delirium tremens last night. He repeatedly said in German that he would take his life, and that without Helen Ringl he had no desire to live. One of the nurses, who understood the language, heard him and reported the man's threat to the management, and while it was considered the rambling talk of an affected mind special attention was given to the patient.

Oberschal occupied a cot in the male surgical ward on the second floor of the building, where 25 other patients are confined. These patients have been considerably annoyed by the yells of Oberschal. About 6 o'clock last night the man became very violent and with a shout, threw the bed clothes aside and jumped from his cot. He was perfectly nude, save for a wide bandage that encircled his breast and covered the wounds made by bullets. Oberschal stood in the center of the ward for a few seconds and then with a piercing shriek ran toward a window that overlooks an alley at the north end of the building. The window was closed. Oberschal climbed over two cots occupied by convalescent patients, to reach an adjoining window. This window was also closed and Oberschal stood back and prepared to jump through the glass. The patients seized the man by the legs and notwithstanding his struggles, held him until assistance arrived.

A half-dozen nurses, orderlies and patients then attempted to subdue Oberschal, but he fought like an enraged beast, and over and over the men rolled on the floor. The greatest excitement prevailed in the ward, among the other patients, and throughout the entire institution. It was a fierce fight from the window back to the cot, where Oberschal was finally landed.

While several strong men pinioned his arms behind him, Oberschal was placed on the cot and strapped down. During all this time he uttered terrible yells, and it was some time before he quieted down.

Oberschal maintained during the night that he would kill himself if he survives.

Anthony Scandoral of Homestead was arrested yesterday in connection with the shooting of the two lovers. The arrest was made by W. E. Reynolds of Hays station, and the man was turned over to Alderman John Groetzinger, who committed him to jail on a charge of felonious shooting. Scandoral had in his possession a revolver with two empty chambers. It is not thought he assisted in the shooting and he is merely held as a witness, as it is believed he was present at the time of the shooting.

Despite Oberschal's outbreak, his condition remains practically the same, as does that of the Ringl woman. It is now thought that both will survive their injuries.

FIRES IN THE SUBURBS.

Five Buildings Destroyed and Another Damaged—Loss Reaches About $23,000.

Fire destroyed about $23,000 worth of property in the suburbs about Pittsburgh, early yesterday morning and Wednesday night. The greatest loss occured in Sheraden, where two stores owned by George Moliek and John Kaburki, and two dwellings, occupied by John Ewait and George Abramovitz, were almost reduced to ashes. The loss esimated on the four buildings is $18,000, partly covered by insurance. The other fires occurred at the city home at Marshalsea, and in Lower St. Clair township, where the home of William Deamon in Cobden street, was burned. The loss on the two fires is placed at about $5,000.

The cause of the fire at Sheraden is not known. The great loss resulted from the poor water supply from which residents of the Chartiers valley have suffered for many months. It was rumored that two men were seen going into the cellar of the Moliek store shortly before the flames were discovered, but this could not be verified. When the flames were seen issuing from the Moliek store the Esplen volunteer fire department was summoned, but the firemen were unable to do more than confine their efforts to saving the surrounding buildings. From the Moliek store the flames spread to the store of Kaburki and to the two dwellings.

Mayor William B. Hays, Assistant Engineer Michael Hennagan and James W. Clark of the department of charities and corrections, investigated the fire at the city poor farm and upon their return to the city said that the damage to the power house is not over $2,500. The cause of the fire is not definitely known, but it is thought a defective electric wire caused the blaze. The portion of the building destroyed will be rebuilt at once.

The origin of the fire at the home of William Deamon, in Lower St. Clair township, is like the others, unknown. The family has been away from home for some weeks and it is thought the house, which was a two-story frame, was accidentally set afire by burglars. The house and furnishings were entirely destroyed and it will be impossible to ascertain how the fire started.

HE WAS FROM UNITY.

Bad Negro Thought He Could Whip Any Showman, but He Was Captured.

"I am from Unity, and I can whip anyone in that crowd," shouted William Gilmore, colored, as he shook his fists at a crowd of excited attaches of the carnival now in progress at Swissvale. Eugene Kinney, a foreman, a few minutes before had been suddenly awakened from a sleep by the man entering his tent. When he spoke to him the negro drew a knife and slashed at Kinney.

The latter's outcry brought a number of other showmen on a run and they started for the negro. The dogs of the show were released and ran the slasher into an old house, where he was finally taken. Some persons wanted to lynch Gilmore. Burgess J. Madison Lynch of Swissvale gave Gilmore 30 days to the workhouse.

Youngstown Is Flooded.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Aug. 27.—(Special.)—Rain has been falling in torrents all afternoon and night and has done thousands of dollars' worth of damage to property. The wall of a two-story brick building, undermined by water, fell tonight. A. M. Appel and his family escaped just in time. Sewers overflowed in the central part of the city, flooding business and wholesale houses. The Youngstown Paint and Glass Company lost $6,000. The Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio tracks are under water in the west end of the city.

Fag End of Atlantic City Travel.

The Pennsylvania railroad conducted another of its Atlantic City excursions yesterday. The travel was heavy, although not quite so many left for the seashore as did two weeks previous. Yesterday morning 20 extra cars were required to handle the crowd. Last evening six extra coaches and two Pullman sleepers were run on train No. 4, and on train No. 16 eight extra cars were run as a second section.

Want National Federation.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 27.—Before adjourning today, the presidents of seven national building trades unions issued a call to the larger building trades unions of the country to send representatives to a conference to be held here October 8. It is hoped at this meeting to effect the formation of a national federation of building trades.

There Were Lamb, Ham and Other Good Things at the Barbecue

The colored population took possession of Kenwood Lawn, in East Liberty, yesterday, and there were some "doin's." The occasion was a barbecue, under the auspices of and for the benefit of the treasury of the Zion A. M. E. church. If there is anything that appeals eloquently to the pleasure-loving mind of the negro, it is a barbecue, and the bare announcement that one is to be given insures his attendance. The rain of yesterday did not interfere with the attendance. The carving incident to a barbecue is something that has importance attached to it. Note the air of dignity about the dissectors of the lamb in the above illustration.

THE DEATH ROLL

James J. Cook.

James J. Cook, second mayor of New Castle, Pa., and for nearly 60 years a prominent resident of New Castle, died unexpectedly Wednesday night at his residence, No. 50 South Beaver street. Had he lived but 15 days longer he would have completed 76 years of life, having been born at Darlington, Beaver county, in 1827. He came to New Castle in 1846, where he learned the tailoring trade and for many years was a merchant tailor in the firm of Cook & Williams. When the town passed from a borough to a city he took an active part and was elected the second mayor of the new municipality. Later he also served in the city councils. He was an active Republican and prided himself that he never cast but one Democratic vote after the Republican party was organized. He also served many years as constable of the First ward. Having amassed a fortune he retired several years ago. Death resulted from a complication of diseases and the infirmities of advancing age. In 1849 Mr. Cook married Miss Mary E. White of this city, who survives him, with the following children: Charles W. Cook, Edward P. Cook, A. J. Cook and the Misses Mary and Susan, at home. The funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon from the Cook residence.

James J. Cook.

He was at one time principal of the Second ward public schools in Allegheny, and about 20 years ago engaged in the insurance business. He was born at Burgettstown, Washington county, where his ancestors were pioneer settlers. When a young man Mr. Stevenson came to this vicinity to live. Mr. Stevenson was a 33d degree Mason and a member of Allegheny Commandery No. 35, Knights Templar, and of St. John's lodge, F. & A. M., of Pittsburgh. He was also a member of the Masonic Country club. He is survived by his wife and four children: Frank Lee Stevenson of Wilkinsburg, and the Misses Annie V., Jean Gray and Mary Stevenson, at home.

Two sisters, Mrs. E. J. Weolslayer of East Liberty and Mrs. John E. Blackley of Bintondale, Pa., and one brother, William McKinnon of Indiana, Pa., also survive. Mrs. McKinnon was a member of the Bellefield Presbyterian church.

Mrs. John R. Long.

Mrs. Mary Long, 42 years old, wife of John R. Long, superintendent of the Tarentum paper mills, and secretary of the Tarentum Young Men's Christian association, died suddenly last evening of a paralytic stroke. She left her home in the afternoon to visit relatives in Freeport. While in the waiting room of the West Penn railroad station she became very ill and was taken to the home of her sister, Mrs. Monroe Jones, in Fourth avenue, Tarentum, where she became unconscious and died shortly after. Mrs. Long removed to Tarentum from Jeannette. She is survived by her father, husband, two sons and one daughter. Mrs. Long was a member of the Tarentum Presbyterian church.

Kloman of No. 1848 Clark street.

QUEER ACTIONS TAKEN BY JURIES OF CORONER

One Policeman Exonerated and Another Held in Almost Identical Cases.

An Allegheny policeman was exonerated by a coroner's jury from blame for the death of a young man, whom he kicked in the stomach while off duty and while the man was not under arrest, the latter dying soon afterward. Yesterday a coroner's jury held a policeman for murder for having shot a man for interfering in an arrest. The last victim was shot in the leg, but the bullet happened to strike an artery, causing death.

The verdict on Wednesday was brought in the case of James McCleary. Policeman James Carothers was let off free. Deputy Coroner Louis C. Huchel held this inquest. Yesterday Coroner Jesse M. McGeary held Policeman Jacob Swartz of police station No. 5 for the grand jury. On August 16 Swartz was arresting a man named Maloney in Fifty-fourth street, when Henry Mullin, aged 21 years, of No. 5425 Butler street, interfered and tried to take the policeman's mace away. Swartz drew his revolver and fired at Mullin, the bullet taking effect in his leg. Mullin died at a hospital three days later.

The coroner is investigating the death of Antonio Mebley, an Italian of McKees Rocks, and ordered the funeral stopped yesterday afternoon until the man's death has been acted upon by a jury. Mebley is said to have been riding on a handcar on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, when it was struck by a locomotive. The case had not been reported to the coroner's office.

An autopsy on the body of Max Bryant, a negro who was found dead in the Sunnyside mines at Milesville Wednesday night, showed death was due to heart failure. He was 32 years old, married and lived at Milesville.

John Jason, a steel worker in the Homestead plant, was caught under a heavy casting yesterday while at work and his hip bone was torn from its socket. He died at Mercy hospital. He was married only a few weeks ago.

Antonio Manfredi, an Italian laborer on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, was run down and instantly killed yesterday afternoon near Nimick.

THE GREAT ARCHITECT

Of the World's Finest Library Building Recommends Pe-ru-na for Catarrh.

CONGRESSIONAL LIBRARY, WASHINGTON, D. C.

HON. I. S. SMITHMEYER, architect of the New Congressional Library of Washington, D. C., ranks first in his profession in this country. This library is considered the finest building in the United States. Mr. Smithmeyer spent sixteen years traveling in Europe working on the plans, and Congress appropriated six million dollars for this building.

In a letter written from Washington and dated July 4th, 1899, to The Peruna Drug M'f'g Co., Columbus, O., Mr. Smithmeyer says the following in regard to Peruna, the world-renowned catarrh cure:

Peruna Drug M'f'g Co., Columbus, Ohio:

Gentlemen—"I endorse the good opinion expressed by Senators and Representatives in Congress regarding the curative qualities of your compound. Those who have used it recommend it as an excellent tonic which is particularly effective as a cure for catarrh." I. S. SMITHMEYER.

One of the most wonderful events in the history of medicine is the multitude of remarkable endorsements which Peruna is receiving as a catarrh cure from men and women of national importance. During the past two years a large number of people well known from ocean to ocean, have in glowing words of unstinted praise made Peruna the most famous and justly celebrated catarrh remedy in the world. Men high in our national councils, statesmen known the world over, distinguished officers in the army and navy, physicians, lawyers, preachers, and last but not least, an innumerable company of people in the common walks of life, have all joined to place Peruna on the highest pedestal of honor that any remedy has ever reached in the history of medicine.

There is no way to account for this fact except that the medicine merits the praise. The men and women who are saying these things would not say them if they were not true. No one would have the audacity to publish such things unless by the authority of those whose names are used.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

OKLAHOMA--
"Land of Promise"

"Oklahoma contains about 400,000 white people—an increase of 500 per cent during the last ten years. It has twenty-four million acres of rich and tillable land. Last year it produced twenty-five million bushels of wheat and sixty million bushels of corn. Scarcely any part of the Southwest is better watered. There is still room for the homeseeker. The winters are mild; ice on the streams is rare; the summers have hot days and cool nights."—Munsey's Magazine for May.

Oklahoma is the place for a young man who has faith in himself, a little capital and a big capacity for work. You can form some idea of it by reading "Rock Island States Southwest," a copy of which will be mailed to anyone who will write for it.

LAST MEETING OF TEACHERS TODAY

Institute of the Allegheny County Schoolmarms Will Be Finished.

LECTURES GIVEN YESTERDAY

Dr. Winship Talked on the Grade Teacher's Future—Prof. Armstrong Discussed Books—Directors Had a Session Yesterday.

Several good addresses were listened to with attention at the Allegheny county teachers' institute yesterday. It opened in the morning with the usual large attendance. Prof. Robert A. Armstrong of Morgantown, conducted the devotional exercises by reading the twenty-third psalm, which he believed to be the finest poem in the world.

The first lecture was by Dr. W. W. Black of the Chicago normal school, who is essentially a teacher of teachers since he prepares the teachers for the public schools of the city from which he hails. He highly commended the growing tendency toward manual training without knowing that this was the very thing in which Pittsburgh school officials are now most deeply interested. He did not know that Supt. Andrew's scheme for a general system of industrial education had been held back pending the definite solution of the Carnegie technical school proposition. He emphasized the importance of the training of the eye and the hand as well as the strictly mental faculties.

Dr. Winship spoke on "The Grade Teacher's Future," as follows:

"The new teacher" is of vastly greater concern than the new geography or the new English. The new teacher is a three-class institution, with the grade teacher as the central feature, with the principals and high school teachers above and the rural teachers below her in point of salary. The grade teacher's record must set the pace of professional progress. Legal documents describe all employments as "occupation, trade or profession," but later Americans add "office and calling."

An occupation is that which one does for a living, getting its ideal from occupancy of the land for a living. Trade is what one does to make money without producing, and comes from the tread, or path made in carrying from producer to consumer. An office is that to which one is elected or appointed as a badge of popularity or honor. A calling is that to which he considers himself called by special gifts or endowment of nature or grace. A profession is that which one professes to love ardently and devoutly. One is never in a profession for a living, though there must be a good living in it before his profession or devotion to it has full public confidence. One can never make money in a profession—he may charge any price for specific professional services; but he cannot advertise his proficiency nor can he sell the secret of his power.

If one claims to be "called" to his service he can have no credit for profession of love for it. If he accepts service as an officer he professes love for honor more than for service. Teaching is now usually an office with the leaders, a calling with specialists, an occupation with the rank and file. How can it be made a profession with all classes?

Dr. Armstrong on the Recitation.

Dr. Robert A. Armstrong of Morgantown, W. Va., professor of English in the state university at that place, was set down on the program for a lecture on "The Recitation," but this was changed to "Books and Reading," which he handled in a manner eminently satisfactory to the audience, judging by the manifestations of approval as shown in applause.

In his story of the books Prof. Armstrong paid a warm and eloquent tribute to the value of the morning newspaper, one of the modern wonders of the world, he called it, as an educator. He gave six good reasons for reading books and loving them, as follows:

They give us the wisdom of past ages. This is an age in which we must know if we are to succeed. We must keep up with the times in information. Books are the great bridges carrying over the wealth of past ages across the abyss of the ages.

They answer those deep heart questions which every earnest soul must ask about the mysteries of this great drama of life.

They give us actual emotional experience in some degree. If art gave us only the shadows of things it would indeed be a feast of Tantalus. But art is more than that. It cultivates the emotions. It develops character by giving emotional experience. I believe in the conservation of spiritual energy as of physical energy. Books are the depositories of this spiritual force of past ages.

Books give the best friends. We are in need of friends. No man liveth to himself. I believe in the transmigration of souls. Books have souls—the souls of their authors—when we make friends of the great books we have for our friends the great souls who made them.

Books are valuable as a means of social cultivation. He who is full of the good things of the library world is a pleasant companion—a joy to his friends.

Books are invaluable as a means of resting when we are weary of the work of the world. What so delightful as to live in the imagination of those more gifted than ourselves!

Meeting of Directors.

The afternoon session was set apart for the special benefit of the school directors of the county. There was a fair attendance which, while not so large as might have been expected, was composed of representative directors from all sections of the county. Dr. Hamilton explained that by a recent enactment of the legislature a directors' institute is to be held hereafter. He said a directors' association had existed in the county for many years which had exercised some influence on the legislature when that body happened to be enjoying a lucid interval.

Dr. Winship spoke to the directors in substance as follows on "Twentieth Century Standards:"

America has entered upon the twentieth century of her activities. Each century has had as distinct a personality as Cotton Mather, Jonathan Edwards and Dwight L. Moody. The seventeenth century was one of authority. In church, in state, in society authority characterized everything. Removed 200 years and more from the witchcraft days, it looks horrible, but no one cared aught for witches in those days, but church, state and society felt that their very existence depended upon demonstrating their authority to take the lives of those who had committed no crime.

The eighteenth century was one of opinion, and oratory and logic were supreme. When Jonathan Edwards hung a sinner over the blistering, consuming heat of perdition by a hair in the presence of a vast congregation, he was not heartless. He had no concern for the sinner if he fell, but he had great concern for the effect of his logic, because it was an age in which opinion must sway. The Revolutionary war was one of opinion. The speeches of Patrick Henry and John Adams made men ready to die for an opinion.

The nineteenth century was one of organization. One hundred years ago there was not the apology for an organization of any kind. Think of it! No political, ecclesiastical or educational organization; no Y. M. C. A., no Y. P. S. C. E., no C. L. S. C., no W. C. T. U., no grange, no labor unions, no trust, no organization of any kind. When the century closed there was nothing that was not organized.

John Mitchell had hundreds of thousands of laboring men in his vest pocket and John P. Morgan tried to put the finances of England, Germany and France in the same wallet with America's wealth. The Revolutionary war was the result of opinion, but the Civil war would never have been had it awaited the effect of the brilliant oratory of Phillips, Garrison, Lovejoy, Winey, Eiddings, Chase and Seward. But when the south saw an organization in the northland it acted speedily.

How about this twentieth century? Authority is the laughing stock of the country. Opinions merely furnish amusement and the day is not distant when we will look back upon the tyranny of organization as we do upon witchcraft murders and Jonathan Edwards' sermons. If I read the signs of the times aright the twentieth century is to enthrone standards.

Dr. Winship then gave several tendencies which led him to see in the signs of the times the supplanting of organizations with standards. These tendencies he sees in the athletes, in the clearing house and in political tendencies.

Dr. Black also spoke to the directors and was listened to with close attention. The meeting will close at noon today.

During the directors' session of the institute the principals of the county met and arranged for their round tables, the first of which will be held on the first Saturday in October. Several new principals of the county put in applications for membership.

IN GOOD SHAPE FOR REPUBLICANS

Chairman Penrose and Secretary Andrews Will Soon Open Headquarters.

AN EASY VICTORY IN SIGHT

Popular Administration of Gov. Pennypacker Insures Success of the State Ticket This Fall—Democrats Are Without an Issue.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Press Building.
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 27.

Senator Boies Penrose, Republican state chairman, who since June has been hunting game in British Columbia, is expected in Philadelphia some time next week. He will formally open Republican state headquarters September 7.

W. R. Andrews, secretary of the state committee, is expected here about September 1. The secretary, from his home in Meadville, has conducted large correspondence with the county leaders. These personal reports have convinced Mr. Andrews that the party pulse is beating strong and regular; that the Republican nominees are acceptable to the people, and that the usual off-year majority will be increased at the November election.

Senator Quay, before leaving for Florida, expressed the opinion that the fall fight was an easy proposition. He was unable to figure out an issue with which the Democrats could influence the voters. Gov. Pennypacker's administration has met with popular indorsement and there is full confidence in his ability to direct public affairs along the same safe, conservative lines during the balance of his term in office.

The work of the last legislature, in a general way, compares well with that of previous sessions, and with one exception—the libel bill—no ill-advised measures received executive approval. But the Democrats cannot make the libel law an issue. To do so would illumine and accentuate the vacillating, negative attitude of Senator James K. P. Hall, Democratic state chairman, who refused to vote for or against the bill, although he was in his seat when it was on final passage.

Col. Quay, after analyzing the situation, saw no need for his presence in Pennsylvania, for some time at least, and he will ride up and down the Indian river hunting "the fisherman's ring."

REQUEST GRANTED BEFORE IT IS MADE

Dawes Indian Commissioners Demands Investigation of Their Conduct.

IT IS ALREADY IN PROGRESS

Secretary of the Interior Department, by Means of New Regulations Now in Force, Cancels 429 Deeds for Lands Bought from Indians.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.

Tams Bixby and T. B. Needles of the Dawes commission telegraphed to Secretary Hitchcock today requesting an investigation of the charges against the commission, and declaring that such is necessary to show our fidelity to duty.

Mr. Hitchcock in his answer says the request had been anticipated. It came several months after an investigation of the alleged land frauds had been started by Secretary Hitchcock, and will not be instrumental in hastening the examination. In his request Mr. Bixby characterizes the charges against the Dawes commission as "fanatical reports."

Senator William Stewart of Nevada, chairman of the senate committee on Indian affairs, said this morning that he will go to Indian territory shortly to make a personal investigation of conditions there and will be accompanied by several other senators. He said Senator Quay will probably be a member of the party.

Secretary Hitchcock of the interior department in a statement issued today outlined in a general way the steps that have been taken to correct the irregularities in Indian affairs. New rules have been inforced regulating the sale of Indian lands.

The new rules require that all Indian lands which are for sale shall be advertised and appraised by a competent official. The secretary has canceled all sales made prior to the time that the new regulations took effect. There were 429 of these deeds, calling for an aggregate payment of $380,000. All these deeds, with the checks, have been returned to the purchasers and the prices received on inherited lands indicate that under the new regulations the prices paid will exceed the old prices by from 15 to 125 per cent.

The secretary found during his stay in Indian territory last spring that clerks in the office of an Indian agent had taken on themselves the responsibility for denying a hearing to their national attorney, who represented some 14,000 Indians. The secretary immediately denounced this transaction as an abuse of official authority and provided for the adequate punishment of the persons engaged in it.

HOUR SALE
KAUFMANN'S
"THE BIG STORE"

"THE BIG STORE" promises a great many things and always makes them materialize. You don't come here in response to our advertisements to be greeted by a lot of flaring cardboard misstatements to recompense you for your trouble. You don't come to our counters and find meager assortments. You will in every instance find the bargains just as we describe them. Space in this newspaper is too expensive to appropriate to exaggeration—for that'd soon stop you coming. If we clung to our goods and acted profit-greedy we'd soon have so much money tied up in merchandise that we never could offer you anything new. Our buyers have been on the alert to grasp good things from makers and millers and great quantities of goods will be placed on sale today at prices unusually low compared with what you will have to pay later on. Read on through these eight columns of hour sale items. Today's prices are an interesting departure from our usual reducing policy of this sale, for they are most unusually bare of profit for US—and abounding with profit for YOU.

This "ad" is bounteously filled with extraordinary money saving revelations

GAMES TODAY.

St. Louis at Exposition Park (2 games).
New York at Boston.
Chicago at Cincinnati.
Brooklyn at Philadelphia.

The champions were prevented from playing the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday afternoon at Exposition park on account of the rain. It would have been the first home game in a long while and a large turnout of the faithful would have been at the park.

Jupiter Pluvius prevented a new battery from being introduced to the patrons of the park. Manager Fred Clarke having signed a pair of western cracks. The battery is Pitcher Thompson of the Helena Pacific National league and Catcher Carrisch of the same club. Thompson is a big righthander, and before taking to the diamond was a miner in a gold mine near Helena, his home. Carrisch lives at Sioux Falls, not far from the home of Deacon Phillippe. Phillippe says he is fast enough for the big league. Thompson is a young man of no bad habits.

Thompson's advent will not crowd the pitching force, as Irve Wilhelm was released yesterday morning. Wilhelm last season was with Birmingham in the Southern league and was considered one of the best slab performers in that organization.

Manager Clarke may introduce the western battery in the second game this afternoon. Deacon Phillippe will be on the rubber in the first, and it is quite likely he will use the recruits in the next. The first game will begin at 2 o'clock.

The team will be away next Monday, but there will be a game at the park, nevertheless. The Ticket Sellers, under the management of Assistant Secretary Walter Smith, who will also play, have challenged the sporting reporters to a game, which has been accepted.

Mitchell and Duggleby Come Near Making Record for Issuing Passes.

BROOKLYN, Aug. 27.—The second game between Brooklyn and Philadelphia, the greater part of which was played in a drizzling rain, resulted in a victory for the home team. The wildness of the visiting pitchers, who gave 17 bases on balls, was directly responsible for the defeat of Philadelphia. Five pitchers were used, and the last inning was played in the darkness. PARKINS REPORTS TO RISHER, PITCHES TODAY

Niles Unable to Play Because of Rain—Hickey Gets Game.

Charlie Parkins, late of the Evansville Central league, reported to Manager Risher of Homestead yesterday morning, and had it not rained in the afternoon he would have been on the rubber against the fast Niles aggregation, which claims the championship of Ohio. Parkins, however, will be on the slab this afternoon, and it is quite likely that Charlie De Moss of Allegheny, who is captain of Niles, will put in Bill Kommer, the Alleghenian, to oppose him. A double-header will be played tomorrow afternoon at Steel Works park with Niles, the first being called at 2 o'clock. Alex Pearson and Osborne will be Risher's selection of slab performers for the two games, while it is probable that Charlie Crow, the old Interstate leaguer, will work in one of the games for Niles.

Manager Risher said last night that the manager of the Pittsburgh Amateurs failed to live up to his announcement that he would like to play his team. P. A. C., it is said, has been claiming all along that it could beat Homestead, and Risher held open one Saturday date, September 12, for it. P. A. C.'s manager failed to arrange the date, after saying he wanted it, according to Risher; and, tiring of the failure to get together, Risher last night gave Burgess Ed Hickey the date for his Millvale team. Now if P. A. C. wants to play Homestead it will have to take a midweek date. This team, it is claimed, is not a drawing card at Homestead, and Risher was willing to give a Saturday date regardless of this.

Manager Bob Ludwick will have his Manor team at Wilmerding tomorrow. Ludwick will present some new faces. He will have Kerr Price at short and Mason, late of the Windsors, at third. The Youngwood team, which wants to play for $100, will be accommodated if it puts up the money, said Ludwick last night. Gitzen and Lobert have been signed by Wilmerding and will play Saturday.

THOMAS IS SWINDLED OUT OF THOUSANDS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 27.—It was learned upon excellent authority today that E. R. Thomas, the young millionaire racing partner of Alex Shields, had been swindled out of several thousand dollars by a clever betting fraud. Mr. Thomas has been the victim of a certain commissioner who has placed a number of heavy wagers around the ring on credit, representing to the bookmakers that they were made for the young banker. The majority of the bets lost. The first intimation Thomas had of the fraud was when several cashiers in prominent books notified him that he had outstanding markers several days overdue.

He protested that he had not authorized the bets, but, it is said, settled all of them when he was convinced that the wagers had been accepted in good faith, having apparently been made with his authority. Thomas went to George Wheelock, president of the M. T. A., the Bookmakers' association, and warned him that in the future he would pay no markers except those laid in person. The bets were not confined to the Thomas horses, and had been going on for several days before Thomas got wind of the matter.

Just now Thomas is one of the biggest bettors in the ring, professional or amateur, and the bookmakers did not think it strange when a commissioner known to have been connected with him bet large sums in his name.

CHANGES ANNOUNCED IN HOLY GHOST ORDER

The Extension of Work Among Colored People Affects Pittsburgh Priests.

The Holy Ghost order of the Roman Catholic church in Pittsburgh, has been greatly affected by a series of changes in positions among the priests of the order, due to the determination to extend work very largely among the colored people of the United States. This determination came out at the recent visit of the Rt. Rev. Alexander LeRoy, superior general of the order, to the United States. Bishop LeRoy, who is one of the greatest missionaries to Africa, was astonished to find so little Catholic following among the colored people of America, and determined to prosecute this work with zeal.

The following changes in Pittsburgh are officially announced as the result of his plans: The Rev. Alphonsus Gavin, dean of discipline and professor at Holy Ghost college, is made assistant at St. Peter Claver's church for colored people, Philadelphia. The Rev. William Stadelman, director of scholastics at Holy Ghost college, is made superior of the Holy Ghost missions at Belmeade, Va. The Rev. Michael Ward is made superior of the colored missions at Pittsburgh. The Rev. Thomas Giblin, professor at Holy Ghost college, is made director of colored schools at Pittsburgh. The Rev. J. M. Desnier, professor at Holy Ghost seminary, Cornwells, is made director of scholastics at Holy Ghost college, Pittsburgh.

The director of the Holy Ghost missions for the negro race in America will be the Rev. D. A. Fitzgibbons, who has been for over 13 years director of St. Joseph's House for Friendless Boys in Pine street, Philadelphia. The Rev. Lawrence E. Farrell, a graduate of Holy Ghost college, Pittsburgh, and for seven years connected with St. Joseph's, succeeds Father Fitzgibbon as director.

He was unable to pay and was sent back to the cell. In a few minutes Caldwell called and said he had found a pocketbook. It turned out that Larkin had hidden the pocketbook under Caldwell's bunk in an adjoining cell. Larkin was rearrested. Mrs. Jackson identified the pocketbook. Caldwell was discharged.

Onward Silver's Mark Beaten and John A. McKerron Beats His Time—Dan Patch Fails.

CONDITIONS NOT FAVORABLE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

READVILLE, MASS., Aug. 27.—About 12,000 persons attended the grand circuit races at Readville today. The conditions were not perfect for extremely fast time. With Dan Patch to go against his world's pacing record of 1:59, the Massachusetts $15,000 stake for trotters eligible to 2:12 class last spring, John A. McKerron's attempt to beat his record of 2:05¼ and three other regular racing events on the card, the crowd had a world of entertainment. The record for the stake of 2:08, made by Onward Silver in 1901, was lowered in the second heat to 2:07¼.

The judges suspended Scott Hudson 10 days for laying Hawthorne up in the first heat. Alta McDonald was also given 10 days' suspension for laying Kamaree up in the initial heat of the 2:20 trot. Dan Patch paced each of the first three-quarters of his mile in exactly 30¼ seconds and the final one in 29¼ seconds, making the mile in 2:00¼. John A. McKerron reduced his record from 2:05¼ to 2:04¾, trotting the last half in 1:01¼.

GOT MONEY OUT OF BANK.

Former Prisoner Is Behind Bars Again on Forgery and False Pretense Charge.

Twice pretending to be a depositor of the Dollar Savings Fund and Trust Company of Allegheny James Maloney, a coremaker of Evaline street, Pittsburgh, was arrested at the offices of the bank in Federal street, Wednesday, and yesterday afternoon Monroe Witherspoon, teller of the company, made information against Maloney before Alderman D. McKelvey, charging him with forgery and false pretense. A time for the hearing has not been set.

Maloney until a few days ago was a prisoner in the Allegheny county jail and while there became quite friendly with J. J. Jennings, also a prisoner. Upon the release of Maloney Jennings remained behind. Last Tuesday Maloney turned up at the Dollar Savings Fund and Trust Company bank, presented the deposit book of Jennings and represented himself as that man. In this way he obtained $30. Wednesday he made a second call at the bank and asked to withdraw a larger sum.

Teller Witherspoon suspected something and telephoned the Allegheny police station. Maloney was held at the bank until an officer arrived and took him in charge.

CRESCEUS BREAKS MARK FOR HALF-MILE TRACK

Accompanied by Automobile and Runner He Travels Mile in 2:03 3-4 at Dayton.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

DAYTON, O., Aug. 27.—A new world's record for a mile on a half-mile track, of 2:03¾, was made by George W. Ketcham's Cresceus this afternoon. Cresceus was paced by Mike the Tramp, driven by Dr. A. Scott Ives of Montreal, and by a steam automobile driven by Mr. [illegible]. This was an experiment and its utility remains to be demonstrated.

The runner was alongside and the automobile to the rear. In the back stretch on the first half the chauffeur crowded up, and Ketcham could be heard at the distance pole telling him to keep off. So easily did Cresceus move that few realized the world's record of 2:06¼, made by him at Kansas City two years ago, was eclipsed. The local track record was 2:12, made by Lord Clinton two years ago, and tied by Allan last year.

Cresceus' time by quarters today was: 0:32, 1:03¼, 1:36¼, 2:03¾.

VON SPEIGEL THE SMOOTH.

Former Chicago Employer Recognizes Him and Will Wait for Him.

W. J. Cooke, a Chicago business man, yesterday called at the county jail and identified J. V. von Speigel as the young man who worked for his firm several months ago, and who robbed them of some money after having obtained a considerable amount of cash by working the "sympathy game."

Von Speigel is in jail on two charges, false pretense and breach of promise, preferred by Pearl M. [illegible] of Allegheny.

Cooke and the prisoner recognized each other instantly and were permitted to have a short conversation. Mr. Cooke would not tell his plans, but it is understood as soon as the Allegheny county authorities have disposed of Von Speigel he will be made to answer charges preferred by the Chicago man.

LARNED FALLS BEFORE DOHERTY

The English Champion Annexes Same Title for Singles of United States.

VISITORS MAKE CLEAN SWEEP

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 27.—H. L. Doherty of England, today defeated W. A. Larned of New Jersey, and to his title as champion of England added that of champion of the United States. The score was 6-0, 6-3, 10-8 in Doherty's favor, and although in the last set the American player made a heroic stand, he was worn out by the British expert and failed to hold him in the 18th game.

By defeating Larned today Doherty completed the clean sweep which he and his brother have made in this country this season. Between them they hold both the singles and the doubles championship of the United States and England, as well as having won the Davis international trophy without the assistance of any other player. The two brothers hold a unique position in the history of the game, a position that no others have ever approached. Summaries:

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Young's Ocean Pier,
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 27.

Incorporation papers were filed today by the Submarine Elevator Amusement Company. The formation of the concern is the outcome of an invention made by Harry L. Riley. The invention is an elevator running under water. One of the lifts is now in course of construction on Young's pier and is designed to carry passengers a distance of 25 feet under the ocean. The cage is inclosed with glass and objects under the water are made discernible through the agency of powerful electric lights. The framework of the elevator is of steel and is reinforced on all sides to resist the strong pressure under water.

Princeton's President to Be the Spell-Binder on Founder's Day

PRESIDENT WILSON
of Princeton

Word was received by cable from London last night, from Col. Samuel Harden Church, secretary of the Carnegie institute's board of trustees, that President Woodrow Wilson of Princeton university will deliver deliver the address at the Carnegie institute on Founder's day, next November.

Col. Church met Dr. Wilson in London and secured his consent to make the address. The trustees of the institute congratulate themselves on having been able to obtain President Wilson's presence. In addition to his prominence as an educator, Dr. Wilson is known as a forceful thinker on economic and political subjects and one of the best informed writers on American history. The announcement will be particularly pleasant to the many Princeton men in this city who remember well Dr. Wilson's visit here last winter as the honor guest of the local Princeton alumni.

WATER ON HILL AFTER A FAMINE OF SIX DAYS

Distress Was Alleviated Following Many Hardships. Wise Barber Secured Supply—Big Prices Paid for Having Faucets to Look At.

After a six-day water famine the residents of the South Side hilltop districts were again furnished with the fluid last night. The water supply in these districts is furnished by the Monongahela Water Company, which blames the recent shortage on the fact that the piston rod of the pump had broken down and that it was necessary to send to New York for a new one. Much distress was felt on Duquesne Heights, the highest point served by the company. Dr. R. G. Winter of that place said last night:

"I have sat up through the night in the expectation of getting water upon the promise of the company, but for six days we have had to depend upon bottled water or purchase it from boys who rode to the foot of the incline with buckets and vessels of all sorts."

A steady stream of men, women and children has been trotting down the hillside for water the entire week. J. E. McIntyre, a resident of Duquesne Heights, who is fortunate enough to have a well on his premises, was compelled to place a lock upon it early in the week, as it had been almost completely drained by suffering neighbors. A prominent druggist said:

"I have been getting shaved every morning so that I might get my face washed, as the barber had thoughtfully placed pans on his roof during the recent showers and had nearly all the water that was in the neighborhood."

On Mt. Washington the same conditions existed. Harry Mosbaugh, who conducts a drug store in Shiloh street, said last evening:

"I pay $52.25 a year for the water I get out of one faucet in this store, and I have been carrying water for the last six days." The famine was also felt in Knoxville and Mt. Oliver, but not so keenly as among their neighboring hill dwellers. Many residents believe the famines, for there have been several during the past three months, are due to worn-out machinery. The company's charter expires next year.

PRAISES SURGERY OF AMERICANS

Dr. Bainbridge Closed Popular Series of Lectures at Chautauqua.

COOK GIVES TALK ON ZOLA

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Dr. William S. Bainbridge closed today what has been one of the most popular series of lectures of the season. The general subject was "The Art of Healing."

Today he talked on "The Reform of Tomorrow," and told of some of the miracles of modern surgery. He warned his hearers against illiterate surgery, and said every physician should have written on his case of instruments: "To be used only when needed; to be used only with knowledge."

The doctor had the highest praise for the American hospitals, which he thinks compare favorably with those of other countries, and he thinks America has just as skilled physicians as France, Austria or Germany.

George Willis Cook of Boston, gave the third lecture in the series of literary interpretations of the social problem of great writers, the special subject of this lecture being, "Zola and Socialism." Mr. Cook said:

"Socialism began in France, though it never attained there political results; it did in Germany. French people are the most progressive people in Europe where liberty is most sought and freedom most realized. It has been the most centralized government, for Paris is only another word for France.

"Zola is a true representative of France. If one reads his novels only for the story or literary style, he is sure to be sadly disappointed, as the author's one aim was to present his theories, and by putting them in story form he reached a larger class of people. He differed from other novelists in that he did study individuals, but his effort was to study groups, bound by ethical, social or religious ties. His novels are great interpretations of the human life and he wished to show the people what the outcome of certain social condition would be."

The speaker touched on the subject of the Dreyfus trial and said that all the powers of the church were against him, because he was a Jew. He greatly lauded the part Zola took in his defense.

The Farmers Deposit Savings bank, corner Fifth avenue and Wood street, opens for business Saturday, August 29. Why not be one of its first depositors? Saturday until 9 p. m. 4 per cent interest paid.

SYRIAN WEDDING WAS ADJOURNED TO YOUNGSTOWN

The wedding ceremony for which a three days' jubilee had been held in the local Syrian colony was not performed yesterday according to schedule. The Rev. Mgr. Corcemas, rector of St. Anne's Roman Catholic church, did not perform the ceremony. It is said, because the pair of lovers were distantly related. Accordingly they boarded a train for Youngstown. In the emulation of an old precedent, they hope to have no difficulty in having the nuptial knot tied at the favorite Pittsburgh Gretna Green.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ayoub are expected back from Youngstown today, and the post-nuptial festivities will go on tonight.

After the breakfast six-hand euchre was played, prizes going to Mrs. Arthur Vining Davis (lone hand), Mrs. Paul Collier, Mrs. H. S. Paul and Mrs. Morris Scott Verner. For those who did not play cards a table of fancy work was provided, Mrs. Laurens McLure taking the prize at this table. Although very informally conducted the affair was marked by the daintiest appointments. The decorations were carried out in lavender, asters of two shades aiding in the color scheme. Vases of the blossoms were arranged on each table. The tally cards were also lavender and the refreshments, as far as possible, were in the prevailing shades. The hours were from 11:30 until 5 o'clock. A representative gathering of Oakmont matrons, all wearing beautiful summer gowns, characterized Mrs. Lee's entertainment. The honor guest was gowned in cream crepe de chine, lace trimmed, while the gown of the hostess was a dainty creation of Persian lawn and lace. Among the out-of-town guests present were Mrs. Colby of New York, the house guest of Mrs. Arthur Vining Davis; Mrs. Crittenden of Philadelphia, the house guest of Mrs. J. V. Scaife; Mrs. G. A. Mueller of the East End, Mrs. John McCulloch of McKeesport, Mrs. Philip Clifton of the East End, Mrs. Dudley Diggs Pendleton and her three daughters, Miss Pendleton, Miss Charlotte Pendleton and Miss Rosalie Pendleton of South Negley avenue.

Large Wedding in Lawrenceville.

St. Augustine's Roman Catholic church was the scene of a large wedding yesterday morning. Miss Clara Clementina Bastian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Bastian of Howley avenue, was the bride and Thomas J. Miller of Braddock the bridegroom. The Rev. Mr. Joseph, O. C. Cap., assisted by the Rev. Mr. Charles and the Rev. Mr. Steppling, performed the ceremony. A nuptial high mass was sung. Prof. Lingrunt, the organist, had charge of the music. He was assisted by Prof. Bissell. At 10 o'clock the bridal party entered the church, the ushers leading. The bride was gowned in white crepe de meteor and duchesse lace, cut with full court train and hung over taffeta. She wore a large picture hat trimmed with plumes and carried a large bouquet of roses. Her only ornament was a diamond pendant, the nuptial gift of the bridegroom.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride, only the relatives being present. Last evening a reception was given, to which about 400 invitations had been issued. The decorations were exceedingly pretty. Green and white prevailed in the dining room. The chandeliers were hung with southern smilax and myrtle. White roses in cut glass vases formed the table decorations. The other rooms were adorned in asparagus and golden rod. The bride is a graduate of the Curry Conservatory of Music. The bridegroom is connected with the electrical department of the Westinghouse Company at East Pittsburgh. After their return from an eastern wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Miller will reside in Howley avenue.

Fibroid Tumors Cured.

A distressing case of Fibroid Tumor, which baffled the skill of Boston doctors. Mrs. Hayes, of Boston, Mass., in the following letter tells how she was cured, after everything else failed, by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Hayes' First Letter Appealing to Mrs. Pinkham for Help:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been under Boston doctors' treatment for a long time without any relief. They tell me I have a fibroid tumor. I cannot sit down without great pain, and the soreness extends up my spine. I have bearing-down pains both back and front. My abdomen is swollen, and I have had flowing spells for three years. My appetite is not good. I cannot walk or be on my feet for any length of time.

"The symptoms of Fibroid Tumor given in your little book accurately describe my case, so I write to you for advice."—(Signed) Mrs. E. F. HAYES, 252 Dudley St., (Roxbury) Boston, Mass.

Note the result of Mrs. Pinkham's advice—although she advised Mrs. Hayes, of Boston, to take her medicine—which she knew would help her—her letter contained a mass of additional instructions as to treatment, all of which helped to bring about the happy result.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Sometime ago I wrote to you describing my symptoms and asked your advice. You replied, and I followed all your directions carefully, and to-day I am a well woman.

"The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound entirely expelled the tumor and strengthened my whole system. I can walk miles now.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth five dollars a drop. I advise all women who are afflicted with tumors or female trouble of any kind to give it a faithful trial."—(Signed) MRS. E. F. HAYES, 252 Dudley St., (Roxbury) Boston, Mass.

Mountains of gold could not purchase such testimony—or take the place of the health and happiness which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought to Mrs. Hayes.

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without a peer as a remedy for all the distressing ills of women; all ovarian troubles; tumors; inflammations; ulceration, falling and displacements of the womb; backache; irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation. Surely the volume and character of the testimonial letters we are daily printing in the newspapers can leave no room for doubt.

Mrs. Hayes at her above address will gladly answer any letters which sick women may write for fuller information about her illness. Her gratitude to Mrs. Pinkham and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so genuine and heartfelt that she thinks no trouble is too great for her to take in return for her health and happiness.

Truly is it said that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing so many women, and no other medicine; don't forget this when some druggist wants to sell you something else.

$5000 FORFEIT If we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness.

SHREDDED WHOLE WHEAT BISCUIT

Your grandfather lived on natural foods—his bones were strong, his muscle good—he was a perfect physical man.

Makes the best toast because it is a network of shreds—each shred being highly porous—thus permitting an even and thorough application of heat. As cream toast or with a poached egg it is never "soggy."

Being a natural food it has perfect affinity with all fruits and vegetables, and served with preserves, jelly, honey or maple syrup, makes a palate-charming dessert. Shredded Wheat is the only naturally porous food made from wheat.

OHIO DEMOCRATS WHETTING KNIVES

Old-Line Party Leaders Going After Tom L. Johnson's Scalp.

WILL ORGANIZE OPPOSITION

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 27.—The rallying cry has gone forth for the old line Democrats in Ohio, and it is "Bury Johnson."

The triumph of Johnson in the state convention yesterday, by methods which savored little of the cherished Democratic doctrine of honest representation, has aroused the antipathy of all the anti-Johnson men, and they will oppose him vigorously in the coming campaign.

John L. Zimmerman says in an interview today that he would have received the nomination but for the illegal tactics resorted to by Johnson's committee on credentials in unseating lawfully-elected delegates. He said there was not a shadow of warrant for the unseating of the regularly elected delegates from Hamilton, Miami and Senaca counties, which gave Johnson control. Zimmerman says, however, that if he could have been nominated for governor he would not have accepted the nomination with a Johnson committee in control of the campaign.

Twenty or more of the leading Democrats in this city, who were prominent formerly in the party, will begin soon to organize the opposition to Johnson. The same will be the case in other parts of the state. The McLean followers profess their belief that Johnson will be the worst defeated Democrat who ever ran for governor of Ohio, and they will do their utmost, either by voting the Republican ticket or by remaining away from the polls, to contribute to that result.

The silverites, who are loyal to Johnson, are not so well satisfied with Clarke, the nominee for United States senator, because of the knowledge that he denounced Bryan in the campaign of 1896. Bryan has been appealed to by the Johnson people to give Clarke his approval. The Nebraskan is wary, however. He says in an interview that he cannot give his approval to the senatorial candidate until he is assured how the candidate stands upon the issues in which he is interested.

VERNER GIVES VIEWS ON OHIO POLITICS

Pittsburgh Traction Magnate and Politician Says Johnson Will Be Defeated.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Aug. 27.—Murry A. Verner, president of the Mahoning Valley Railway Company, was in the city today and gave encouragement to the proposed connection between Cleveland and Pittsburgh, although he said the time was not fully ripe for such a move. The line which the company owns is from Warren to New Castle. "We are taking up the subject," he said. "We know the importance of such a connection and it will be made eventually. We expect to double-track the line between this city and Niles at once."

Mr. Verner turned the subject to Ohio politics and paid a glowing tribute to Myron T. Herrick, whom he predicted would be the next governor of the state. "It isn't in the wood for Johnson to beat Herrick for governor," he said. "Johnson can enthuse the crowd. He will carry the support of those who follow or are carried away with the 'hip, hurrah,' but the voters who think and consider will vote for Herrick."

BISPHAM HAS DECLINED.

Pennypacker's Appointee for Philadelphia Judgeship Refuses to Serve.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 27.—(Special.)—Gov. Pennypacker has failed in his efforts to induce George Tucker Bispham of Philadelphia, to accept the appointment of judge of common pleas court No. 3 of Philadelphia, to fill the vacancy created by the death of Judge Henry J. McCarthy. Formal announcement of Mr. Bispham's declination was made tonight by Executive Clerk Lynch in the following statement:

"The governor received last evening the first written communication from Mr. Bispham since his appointment as judge. It is dated Baden-Baden, Aug. 12, and declines the appointment."

The governor may allow the vacancy to remain open until after the election and then appoint Robert Von Moschisker, the Republican nominee, whose election is conceded.

MINERS' PENSION FUND.

Pittsburgh Coal Company Employes Holding First Annual Convention.

The Pittsburgh Coal Company's Employes Accident, Death and Pension Fund association opened its first convention in Moorhead hall yesterday. About 100 delegates were present, representing about 15,000 miners. Two sessions were held and the convention will probably continue until Saturday.

At the afternoon session President Patrick Dolan and Secretary William Dodds of the United Mine Workers, addressed the delegates. When the plan for the association was made known to the miners the organization opposed them, claiming they would not be so beneficial to the workingmen as to organize an association independent of the coal company. The officials lauded the project.

J. E. McDonald read a report showing that at the close of July 14,435 were members of the association governing the fund. The fund was started a year and a half ago. Each mine has a branch and there are 70 at the present time.

BIDDING FOR PAVING.

Booth & Flinn Again in Line for Contracts for Asphalt Pavements.

Mayor Hays and Director Edward M. Bigelow yesterday opened bids for the repaving of 14 streets, six of them to be repaved with asphalt. Director Bigelow said that $76,000 is all the money the department has for the work.

Booth & Flinn are bidders on the asphalt streets, and their bids were very low, although the lowest bidders will not be known until the bids have been tabulated. Booth & Flinn have not bid on asphalt work for some years, the Pittsburgh Asphalt Company having gotten the bulk of the work since the firm ceased bidding.

Employment Agents Held for Court.

H. D. Ladd and J. Walsham, proprietors of the Empire Employment bureau at No. 426 Fourth avenue, and S. Michler and B. Stewart, proprietors of the City Employment agency at No. 411 Seventh avenue, were held for court yesterday in $1,000 bail each by Magistrate Joseph H. Vitchestain on charges of false pretense.

Rose Feltwell filed the will of her husband, Robinson J. Feltwell, and took out letters on the estate, and Attorney Herman Hagner represents the executrix.

Charles H. Davis, Gustav A. Shenkel and John Hennessy were appointed by the quarter sessions court as commissioners to decide the advisability of dividing West Liberty borough into districts.

Application was made for a charter for the First Christian church of Dravosburg. The trustees are William Downey, Alonzo S. Robison, Charles H. R. Downey, Wilmer H. Downey, John P. Guthrie, Roland J. Phillips and Alanson W. Figley. Attorney Clark D. Beggs represents the incorporators.

STEEL UNDERWRITERS MAKE HANDSOME PROFIT

Report of Operators Will Be Made to Directors' Meeting October 6.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—The underwriting syndicate in charge of the bond conversion plan of the Steel Corporation is expected to make its final report at the quarterly meeting of the board of directors October 6. The syndicate has made no official statement as to the result of the attempt to convert $200,000,000 of the seven per cent preferred stock into five per cent bonds, and to sell $50,000,000 of the bonds for cash, but it is asserted that the showing will be satisfactory.

Only $20,000,000 of the $50,000,000 bonds to be disposed of for cash at par have been sold. This amount was taken over by the underwriting syndicate and cash paid for them. Of the preferred stock to be converted into bonds, stockholders took nearly $50,000,000 and the syndicate supplied $30,000,000 to make the original $80,000,000 provided for in the underwriting.

Since the syndicate is said to have bought over $100,000,000 preferred stock and converted it into bonds, the difference netting them from two to five points. It is expected to report that the entire allotment of $200,000,000 of preferred stock has been converted into bonds; that the dividend charges have been decreased $14,000,000; that the interest charges have increased $11,000,000, saving $3,000,000 in fixed charges. The corporation will still have $30,000,000 of five per cent bonds to convert into cash.

EXPRESS TRAIN BLOWN UP WITH DYNAMITE

Turkish Revolutionists Blamed. Seven Persons Were Killed and Fifteen Injured.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

SOFIA, BULGARIA, Aug. 27.—The eastbound daily express from Budapest to Constantinople was blown up near Kuleli Burgas, about 28 miles south of Adrianople, early today. Seven persons were killed and fifteen were injured. Dynamite bombs were used. Every car was smashed. Apparently the outrage was the work of revolutionists.

The bomb which wrecked the train was thrown by a third-class passenger who was in the buffet car. Only two cars were destroyed. The dead include two Mussulman women, two children and three trainmen.

The continued absence of news from the interior of Macedonia, where there is a widespread interruption of telegraphic communication is causing great uneasiness to the Turkish officials here and much unrest among the public.

The appointment of Marshal Ibrahim Pasha to command the troops in Macedonia has been canceled and the command has been given to Gen. Nassir Pasha, a capable officer who commanded the brigade sent to pacify the Albanians earlier in the year.

The governor of Ipek, Albania, has been dismissed for incapacity and misconduct and is succeeded by Said Bey who commanded the troops at Mitrovitza when the Albanians attacked that place in the spring.

PROVISIONS POISONED PEOPLE AT PICNICS

Many Persons Were Made Ill by Eatables Procured in Rochester.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BEAVER FALLS, PA., Aug. 27.—A wholesale poisoning is puzzling the people of Beaver Falls today, there being over 30 people ill from the results of eating provisions. The first cases reported were those of the members of the Sunday school class of Miss Lillie Reno of Rochester, who took the 12 members of her class to a picnic at Morado park yesterday. Shortly after dinner five members of the class were taken suddenly ill.

They had to be carried to a car and taken to their homes in Rochester. The five had eaten of a cake. Today the children were still ill. Three of another Sunday school class party, who picnicked at Pfeiffer's grove, were ill last night from something they had eaten. Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Masten and three sons, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Dowell and their daughter, who went to a picnic at Aliquippa and carried a lunch from Rochester, were also taken sick, as a result of eating their provisions.

The list is augmented by a number of boarders at Edward's restaurant and Watt's and Palmer's boarding houses and one member of the Barr family is also ill. The cause of the poisoning has not yet been determined, but it is a strange coincidence that so many should be taken ill the same day from provisions purchased in Rochester.

HOLD-UP NETS $1,800.

Bold Robbery Perpetrated Near Center of City of St. Paul, Minn.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 27.—(Special.)—Today a daring hold-up was committed only a few blocks from the center of the city. The robbers escaped with $1,800 in paper money, and no clue was left behind.

The victim was Hadley Morrison, a contractor on a Montana railroad, formerly of Bozeman. While making a short cut through some brush near the station, two men suddenly confronted him with pistols pointed at his head, and ordered him to come into the hedge. He did so, but succeeded in drawing his own gun, meanwhile. The robbers took the gun away from him and battered him in the face with it. They made him hold up his hands and then searched him. Morrison says he recognized the highwaymen.

Refused to Vacate Building.

Trouble brewed fast at Second avenue and Ferry street yesterday afternoon, when Wabash railroad extension employes started to take possession of a building condemned a year ago. Threats to use firearms were made by the tenants, who refused to be ousted, and after some lively verbal combats the ten railroad employes withdrew, apparently afraid to go ahead with the task of wrecking the building.

This morning the family will be quietly notified to vacate. If they do not, the building will be torn down over their heads.

Pastor Apologized to Church.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Aug. 27.—(Special.)—The Rev. Samuel A. Smith, whose attack Saturday evening upon Dr. R. G. Boak caused the minister's arrest for assault and battery, appeared before the official board of his congregation last night and apologized for his conduct. The apology was accepted.

CLYDE CO. WILL CELEBRATE.

Pittsburgh Markets Feel Effects of Close of Navigation.

Preparations are being made by the Clyde Coal Company to have a celebration on September 15 when its handsome new steamer Clyde will be put in commission. T. M. Rees, of the firm of Rees & Son, who are placing on the machinery, promises to have the boat ready by that time. The officials of the Clyde Coal Company will make a trip up the Monongahela river on the Clyde's maiden trip. It is also intended to take out an excursion of customers a little later.

Since the packets have ceased running from the down-river ports, no produce, poultry or eggs have been brought up the river, and the Pittsburgh market feels the effect. Each incoming packet a month ago brought in much poultry and eggs, and if they were running now large quantities of vegetables would be brought in almost daily.

Arrivals.

I. C. Woodward, Williams, Morgantown. Edgar Cherry, Abrams, Brownsville.

Departures.

Columbia, Demaine, Morgantown. Edgar Cherry, Abrams, Brownsville.

River Notes.

At 9 o'clock last night the marks on the gauge at the Davis Island dam indicated a stage of 3.3 feet and the river was falling.

The steamer Two Brothers, recently purchased by E. D. Bierer from the People's Coal Company, is towing stone from Pt. Marion to Pittsburgh. The stone is being taken from Painter's quarry and used mostly in laying foundations for houses.

Capt. R. R. Abrams has returned from a tour of inspection on the upper Monongahela river. He has been looking over the wharfboats and steamers belonging to the Pittsburgh & Morgantown packet line, of which he is superintendent.

The Winifred, which will be the Diamond, will be brought into the harbor today. Capt. C. M. Posey finished his part of the work last night and he declares that she is one of the best. She will have her machinery put on at Rees & Son's shop in Duquesne way.

Invitations for the excursion to be held by Harbor No. 25, Masters and Pilots association, next Wednesday, are scarce. Eleven hundred were printed and the officials do not wish to print more to supply the demand, because they fear a larger crowd than they can handle. Rivermen from all over this section will attend the outing and a great day is anticipated.

DULLEST DAY FOR YEARS ON THE STOCK EXCHANGE

Prices Moved Within Narrow Limits, the Market Closing Steady to Firm—Outlook for Money. Local Securities Lower.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

For a five-hour session yesterday's New York stock market was the dullest for three years. Up to noon the total sales were only a trifle more than 90,000 shares, and for the day only 156,000 shares. Commission house business was the smallest for several years, and the task of keeping the market alive devolved upon a small number of room traders. Foreign markets were apparently as dull as Wall street, and London's operations were not a factor in the dealings. The announcement of the assassination of the American vice consul at Beirut did not have any effect upon the market, but served to emphasize the Turkish troubles. The tone of the market was heavy most of the day. Traders had no difficulty in depressing prices, but their tactics did not force any selling. It was merely buying and selling between professional traders, and small ones at that, in which the actual owners of securities or investors took no part.

The course of values was not influenced by the meager news developments, else there would have been an advance. The Erie statement of earnings was fully up to expectations. For the month of July there was an increase in gross of $1,239,000 and an increase in net of $707,000. For the 12 months there was a balance of $8,432,000 available for dividends, and a surplus of $5,948,000 after the dividends on the first preferred stock. This remainder was equivalent to more than 4 per cent earned on the common stock, but the latter instead of responding to the excellent showing became weak. It opened at 30 and steadily declined to 29¼, closing at 29½. During the early part of the session all the stocks that displayed any activity sold below the lowest level of the day before. St. Paul declined from 140¾ to 139⅞. Pennsylvania declined nearly a point to 123. Missouri Pacific declined to 93⅛, Atchison to 62 and Rock Island to 26⅝. Union Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio and New York Central declined fractionally, but the dealings were so small as to be without significance.

In the industrial list prices were irregular. Anaconda Copper was notably strong, advancing to 83½ on small foreign buying orders, although the London market for the metal was 15 shillings lower. Amalgamated Copper sympathized and advanced to 48¼. Less than 1 per cent covered the fluctuations in United States Steel. The common stock advanced to 23¾ and reacted to 22¼, while the preferred after advancing to 70½, declined to 69¾. Republic Iron & Steel preferred broke from 66¼ to 64¾. The apathy of the industrial list to news was fully as great as that in the railroads. American Locomotive reported a surplus of only $224,000 last year, but there were only two transactions in the common stock and none in the preferred, the latter closing at 84 bid. United States Realty & Construction preferred made a new low record by breaking from 39¼ to 36, the movement of the stock strengthening the opinion that the preferred dividend will be suspended.

In the closing half hour there was a strengthening all along the line, and final prices were at or near the highest of the day. St. Paul recovered to 140½, Pennsylvania to 123⅝, Missouri Pacific to 93¾, and the remainder of the list from ¼@½ per cent. The market closed steady to firm.

The basis for the final rally was ostensibly the publication of a report that Secretary Shaw stands ready to increase the government deposits in national banks by $40,000,000. Owing to the rejection of the canal treaty by the Colombian government, the United States will not be called upon to pay out the money to the French owners of the franchise this fall. It is presumed that the treasury department had made preparations for the payment of this draft, and the delay caused by the action of Colombia leaves the treasury with about $50,000,000 for which it has no immediate need. The report that Secretary Shaw would transfer all or a portion of this surplus to the banks, was qualified by the statement that such action would be taken if in the judgment of the secretary it was necessary to relieve the money market. The story was a very slender peg upon which to hang a bull argument for the stock market. On the face of last Saturday's returns showing that the banks hold a surplus reserve of more than $21,000,000, which is above the average for the past five years at this season, there does not appear to be any pressing necessity for government relief. That the banks are husbanding their resources and holding rates for time money stiff around 6 per cent is pretty generally admitted. The continuance of this policy will avert any severe stringency in the money market at crop-moving time. Of course this policy will be at the expense of comparative stagnation in stock speculation, but that is one "industry" that can afford a temporary shut-down for repairs after the hard knocks of the past eight months.

There was no change in call money yesterday, rates being quoted at 1½ to 2 per cent. Since last Friday the banks have gained $290,000 through sub-treasury operations. The weekly statement of the Bank of England showed an increase of $3,100,000 in reserve and a slight decrease in loans, while the Bank of France reported a decrease of about $800,000 in specie and an increase of more than $27,000,000 in bills discounted.

On the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday the trading was dull and the tone of the market rather heavy. About one-fourth of the total business was in Pittsburgh Coal, which after selling at 32½ reacted to 32¼, and closed unchanged for the day. The preferred closed a small fraction lower at 83⅝. River Coal common and preferred were dull and unchanged. There were no public transactions in National Fire Proofing common which was nominally quoted at 20 bid, 20½ asked. The preferred was slightly higher at 30¼. Crucible Steel common was unchanged at 9¼@9½, and the preferred closed ¼ per cent lower at 70¼. United States Steel closed ⅜ lower for the common and ⅞ lower for the preferred. A small lot of Westinghouse Airbrake sold at 145, but later quotable lots were offered at 144⅞, closing at 143½ bid. Electric was lower declining to 80⅞, and closing at 81 bid. There was a little more doing in bank and trust stocks, but in every instance prices closed unchanged. Federal National bank declined to 145, but recovered to and closed at 147 bid. Consolidated Gas 5s sold at 106, a decline of 3½ per cent from the last previous sale.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The United States Glass Company has declared a dividend of 4 per cent on the preferred stock, payable September 10.

Pittsburgh Plate Glass sold at 125, which was unchanged from the day before. There are quiet intimations of some developments that will justify an advance in the stock. For a long time past there has been some expectation of an increase in the rate of dividend. The impression prevails that for more than two years past the earnings have justified an increase in the rate to at least 8 per cent per annum. It has been the policy of the management, however, to make liberal charges for expense and depreciation, and to put back into the plant a considerable proportion of the earnings. It is claimed that the pursuit of this policy has placed the company in a position where it could operate at no profit on the manufacturing end of its business and yet earn more than the present rate of dividend out of the operations of its jobbing department.

There were no posted sales of National Fire Proofing common yesterday, but it was reported that private transactions had been made at 20. On the exchange the stock was nominally quoted at 20 bid, 20½ asked. The preferred advanced ⅜ to 30¼ at the close.

Westinghouse Electric declined to 80⅞ and closed at 81 bid. Robinson Bros. were the largest buyers and Sproul & Co. were sellers.

The dealings in Pittsburgh Coal yesterday suggested manipulation for the further accumulation of stock. A little more than 1,000 shares changed hands at 32¼@32½, the latter being the final sale.

Westinghouse Air Brake was offered at 144⅞ at the close and 143½ was the best bid for quotable lots. The date for declaring the quarterly dividend occurs about the middle of next month.

While the local stock market displayed a downward tendency yesterday, it must be admitted that prices are holding well when the state of the money market is taken into consideration. The bulk of the transactions is for cash customers. The general public looks upon the list as a purchase, and probably not a day passes that brokers do not refuse margin orders from traders whom they would be glad to have on their books if the money market were in a normal condition.

There was a sale of $1,000 Consolidated Gas 5s at 106 on the local board. This is a decline of 8½ per cent from the last previous sale, and just 12 per cent below the record price of the bonds reached two years ago. Pittsburgh Brewing 6s at 110 are 10½ per cent below the record price quoted for the bonds when they first came upon the local market in February, 1899. River Coal 6s at 112 are 7 per cent below the highest, which was quoted last year and the year before. This last named issue is being gradually retired through the operation of the sinking fund.

Natural gas stocks were very dull yesterday and prices closed nominally unchanged.

The Pittsburgh stock exchange will be closed September 5 and 7, the latter Labor day.

Second National bank of Pittsburgh was offered at 850. There was no bid.

In the Boston market yesterday there was an improvement in the copper stocks, led by Calumet and Hecla, which advanced $35 a share from 450 to 485.

The gross earnings of Louisville & Nashville for the third week in August increased $43,000.

After the close of the market yesterday the following dispatch was received from Washington over Harris, Gates & Co.'s wire: "The statement is made at the treasury department that Secretary Shaw, in anticipation of possible money stringency this fall, when the crop movement begins, has set aside $40,000,000 which will be immediately available in case of an emergency. This amount or any part of it can at any moment be placed in national bank depositories and afford immediate relief in case of necessity. The secretary, of course, will be the judge of the situation and will only make use of these funds when he is convinced the financial interests of the country demand their employment."

Directors of the Republic Iron and Steel Company will meet next Monday to take action on the quarterly dividend on the preferred stock. The regular 1¾ per cent rate is expected.

The International Paper Company reports for the year ended June 30 a surplus after dividends of $1,186,132, against $552,654 the previous year, an increase of $633,478.

The official statement given out by the Consolidated Lake Superior Company is as follows: "The efforts to provide funds needed by the Consolidated Lake Superior Company, through the sale of bonds, has not produced the required results, and it has been found necessary to abandon this plan. It is proposed now to effect a complete reorganization of the company's affairs by the formation of a new corporation and the exchange of the old stocks for new upon the payment of assessments, which will produce the amount of money which it was sought to raise through the issue of bonds. A syndicate is now being formed to advance the $8,000,000 needed by the company for the discharge of current obligations and for additional working capital, and to carry through a plan of reorganization, the details of which will be announced in a few days. A reorganization, such as is contemplated, will call for the payment by the stockholders of virtually the same amount that has been asked for in the form of subscriptions to bonds, but will obviate the necessity of creating any bond issue and will permit the reduction of the company's capitalization to a figure closely approximating the actual cash investment in the property."

On the property leased from the Pocahontas Coal Company, which is controlled by Norfolk & Western, the United States Steel Corporation has erected a plant of 2,500 coke ovens and has recently begun shipment of the product on a small scale. For some time the corporation has been shipping coal from this property over the new branch line which Norfolk & Western has built into the tract, and hereafter the road will receive considerable business from the handling of both products. The amount will be increased as development work progresses. The corporation is said to be now erecting on the property 2,000 houses for its miners and other employes.

STAGNATION REIGNED IN WALL STREET MARKET

Smallest Day's Trading for Over Two Years Is Placed on Record.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Aug. 28.

The Herald this (Friday) morning, says: There was so narrow and uninteresting a stock market yesterday that its developments furnished but little for comment. Business dwindled away to the lowest point reached in nearly three years, only 160,000 shares, approximately, having been traded in during the day. Speculative interest flagged, not to speak of any outside or public commitments. As a result the market was extremely narrow and failed to respond to any of the developments of the day. If there was any tendency of prices during the session it was toward a lower level. There was no pressure, however, to sell, neither was there any pressure to buy. The market simply marked time.

The intervals in which no quotations were reported, which have been remarked upon during the last week, became more pronounced soon after the opening yesterday. The failure of the general list to respond to the gratifying statement made by the Erie in its preliminary annual report of earnings, was not liked, and traders made a faint-hearted effort to depress prices. Some of the leading speculative favorites declined a point or thereabouts, but at the lower levels covering began which started a little recovery. Prices thereafter drifted about in an aimless way until at the close Amalgamated Copper showed a strengthening tendency, which lifted a few shares out of the speculative lethargy which had settled on the market.

The news that the American vice consul had been assassinated at Beirut, Syria, did not even cause a temporary flurry in the stock market. European advices told that the markets abroad were disturbed over the outlook in southwestern Europe, but our market failed to respond.

Fraternal Congress Officers.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 27.—The National Fraternal congress today elected officers as follows: President, Edwin O. Wood, Flint, Mich., supreme commander of the Knights of the Royal Guard; vice president, F. A. Falkenberg, Denver, head consul of the Pacific jurisdiction of the Woodmen of the World; secretary-treasurer, M. W. Sackett, Meadville, Pa., supreme recorder of the Ancient Order of United Workmen. The next congress will meet at St. Louis.

Diamonds from Amsterdam.

Our latest importation of diamonds and precious stones arrived at the Pittsburgh customs house last week, and were taken out of bond, and are now being assorted for sizes and qualities. As we purchased 50 per cent more goods this than in former years, we are offering tempting prices. Sam. F. Sipe, Schmidt building, second floor, 339 Fifth avenue.

Baltimore & Ohio Awards Contracts for $312,000 for Glenwood Work

Contracts amounting to approximately $312,000 have just been let by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad for the shop improvements and additions at Glenwood. The contracts are all "hurry-up." They are to be completed in time for the entire enlarged shop system to be in use January 1. The number of men to be employed there will be doubled and all the classes of shop work will find a place in the new plan.

There will also be built at Glenwood a "trainmen's building," similar to those of the Ft. Wayne at Conway and of the Lake Erie at McKees Rocks. This building will be of frame 80 by 60 feet, and two stories high. On the first floor will be a reading and smoking room, with other conveniences, while on the second there will be tub and shower baths and 24 beds. There will also be individual lockers. The roundhouse at Glenwood will have 28 stalls. It will be of steel and frame construction, but the foundations will be made heavy enough to permit its being rebuilt with brick if desired later. An electric light plant will be constructed to supply the Glenwood yards and shops, the Pittsburgh passenger, freight and produce stations and the Pittsburgh yards. A large cable will be laid between the Water street station and Glenwood to conduct the current. All the switchlights of the intermediate towers which now use oil will be supplied with electricity after this plant is completed. A battery of six large boilers will adjoin the electric plant. The various machines in the machine shop will be run by individual motors. George B. Swift & Co. of Chicago have been awarded the contract for that part of the work. To the Pittsburgh Construction Company were awarded the contracts for an oil house 30 by 50 feet; a storeroom 60 by 120, a turntable 80 feet in diameter, to be operated by electricity, and extensions doubling the capacity of the erecting and blacksmith shops. A pump house with a capacity of 800,000 gallons daily is yet to be authorized. This will furnish the water for fire protection, for the use of engines and for use in shops. The plans for the new work were made and the contracts let by J. E. Greiner, engineer of bridges and buildings of the Baltimore & Ohio. The work in progress will be under the supervision of A. W. Thompson, division engineer of the Pittsburgh division.

Plan Detroit Bridge.

Careful investigations entailing much expense are now being made by the Grand Trunk and Michigan Central railroads jointly looking to the construction of the longest railroad bridge of the world and the most magnificent and costly in all respects. This bridge is to cross the Detroit river from the Canadian shore to Detroit. Arrayed against its construction will be the powerful interests of the lake traffic. Nevertheless, it is the belief of the railroads that they can build this bridge in such a way that it will not interfere with the navigation of the Detroit river, the busiest body of water in the world. It is said that the bridge will be much less trouble to the great up-and-down traffic than will the three systems of car transfer boats now being operated by the Canadian Pacific, the Grand Trunk and the Michigan Central. It is necessary, the railroads urge, that either the number of transfer barges be increased or that a bridge such as is proposed be built. The best engineering talent in the country has been engaged to work out the problem. It is stated that an elevation of 100 feet above the high water mark of the Detroit river will be the minimum. The Lake Carriers' association would have 150 feet; but this height is much like the demands on the bridges across the Allegheny river. It is needed for only a few old-fashioned crafts, and these are likely to be bought by the railroad interests and put out of commission rather than to allow them to make so unreasonable a height for the bridge.

The bridge will be a cantilever structure. The approaches on each side will be fully two miles and the total length of the bridge and all will likely be over five miles. The cost will be about $10,000,000.

Combine Ticket and Hotel Charge.

Reports that the Pennsylvania railroad has become a heavy owner of real estate at Cape May, and in connection with the syndicate of local men which is engaged in enlarging that seashore resort, will spend much money preparing for a second Atlantic City, are borne out by advertisements which have just been issued by the Pennsylvania for a novel excursion to that city. "To Cape May and return, including seven days' board at the leading hotels," the advertisement reads. Three of the largest hotels of the resort are named as those at which the persons going on this trip may stop at the special ticket rate. Rates from Pittsburgh to Lancaster are announced. From Pittsburgh the fare will be $33.25. The excursion is to start August 31 and September 1. The union of railroad ticket and hotel accommodations is an unusual one here.

Will Not Cut Poles.

There will be no cutting down of the Western Union Telegraph Company's poles along the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh in the near future, according to the statement of one of those most interested. "An agreement has been made between the Pennsylvania Company and the Western Union that the work on the Pennsylvania lines east of Pittsburgh will not be repeated," he said. "The outcome of the cases now under appeal is being awaited and in the meantime the poles and lines will not be disturbed. In the east injunctions against the further attacks on Western Union property were granted because of this appeal to the United States supreme court."

There have been statements recently that the pole-slashing on the lines west is imminent. The time-limit of the notice to vacate the right of way of the Pennsylvania Company has passed, but the agreement to hold off will prevent measures similar to those of last spring being taken.

T. C. Link Inspects Station Work.

Theodore C. Link, station architect of the Wabash railroad, reached Pittsburgh yesterday on a visit of a day or two to look over the progress of work on the new Wabash terminals here. All the contracts that need immediate fulfillment have been let already and it is unlikely that Mr. Link will award more on this trip. He is well pleased with the progress being made on the big building.

Changes on B. & O. Railroad.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Aug. 27.—(Special.)—It was announced at the offices of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad here today that C. H. Albright, who recently resigned as division agent on account of ill health, would on Saturday succeed A. G. Griffith as station agent at Morgantown, W. Va., as the latter has been transferred to a similar position at Warren.

RAILROAD NOTES.

The annual conference of the Pennsylvania railroad Y. M. C. A. will be held at Pottsville September 25 to 27.

Positive denial is made by Chairman W. L. Bull of the Wisconsin Central of the report that the Grand Trunk has acquired control of that road.

Special agents on all world's fair trains to assist conductors in detecting fraudulent tickets is the scheme proposed by George Morton, general passenger agent of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas.

The passenger officials of Cincinnati have discovered that a great deal of abuse has been made of the low-rate tickets allowed students. Students living in the suburbs and attending schools in the city are entitled to the rates, but many who are not students have been obtaining them.

James J. Hill, the great railroad builder of the northwest, thus expresses his opinion of the proposed railroad from Vancouver to Brazil: "We had trouble enough in building a road over two mountain ranges, but I should ask to be excused from jumping a train from one mountain peak to another the length of a continent."

PHYSICIAN KILLED BY ANOTHER IN A DUEL

BERLIN, Aug. 27.—Dr. Schwartz, manager of the State Sick Insurance hospital, Muhlhausen, Alsace-Lorraine, killed Dr. Schloss, who was the leader of a strike movement on the part of outdoor relief physicians, in a duel two or three days ago. The surviving principal and the seconds apparently tried to conceal the cause of Dr. Schloss' death, attributing it to blood poisoning. The police took possession of the body as it was about to be cremated at Gotha and the arrest of Dr. Schwartz followed. Dr. Schloss and Dr. Schwartz since then had a bitter personal quarrel.

Removal.

The large modern plant of the PITTSBURGH PRINTING COMPANY has been removed to their own commodious building, 518-520 Seventh avenue, and they are now ready to fill all orders promptly. Their facilities for electrotyping, printing and binding are second to none in Western Pennsylvania.

Spend a Week at Charming Cape May.

$33.25 covers ticket, via Pennsylvania railroad and seven days' board at the leading hotels, beginning August 31 or September 1.

In the Oil Fields

The South Penn Oil Company made the only important discovery in the lower southwest fields yesterday. The well is that company's No. 4 on the G. W. Toothman farm, located between the Folsom district and Wallace in Harrison county, West Virginia. When drilled into the pay it started to flow and produced 154 barrels the first five and one-half hours. The location is about one mile due south of the same company's No. 1 on the Jesse Talkington farm, which started at something like 50 barrels an hour, but went to pieces in a few days.

To the southwest of the Showalter, on what looked to be a good line, the South Penn has completed a test on the B. B. Postalwait farm and has a small pumper, not good for more than 5 barrels a day.

In the Smithfield district, in Wetzel county, C. D. Greenlee has drilled his test on the Samuel Long farm 55 feet into the Big Injun and has developed a little oil.

In Wetzel county, near Kingtown, the Philadelphia Company has drilled its test on the J. B. Hicks farm into the Gordon and has developed a strong gasser, estimated to have a capacity of 6,000,000 cubic feet a day.

On Fallen Timber run, A. W. Mellon & Co.'s No. 3 on the D. B. Ice farm is holding up at 100 barrels, and the South Penn Company's No. 3 on the M. M. McIntire farm at 120 barrels a day.

In the Hebron district, Tyler county, the Carter Oil Company has drilled No. 47 on the A. Broadwater farm into the Cow Run and has a 5-barrel pumper.

In the Stout district, in Doddridge county, the Carter Oil Company has completed its No. 9 on the D. P. and L. M. Stout farm and has a show for a 5-barrel pumper in the Gordon sand.

In the Whisky Run extension, in Ritchie county, the Carter Oil Company's No. 3 on the J. J. Mehaney farm is holding up at 175 barrels a day. In the same district, the Bonds Creek Oil and Gas Company is drilling at 1,000 feet at its test well on the F. L. Hamilton farm.

In the Highland district, on the Ohio side in Washington county, operations are increasing as will be seen by the list of test wells drilling and starting.

In the Plum Run district, in Harrison county, the Ohio Consolidated Oil Company has completed its No. 8 on the Isaac Miller farm and has a 5-barrel pumper. The same company has completed No. 3 on the I. T. Rainsberg farm and has a 12-barrel pumper.

In the same district the Barricklow Oil Company has completed No. 6 on the Barricklow heirs' farm and has an 8-barrel producer. This pool has been fully defined and nearly all of the work is in the interior. Moore & Calhoun are drilling a test on the F. Guthrie farm, located in advance of developments.

MOVEMENTS IN TRADE.

COLORADO SPRINGS, COL., Aug. 27.—The Telluride Reduction Company this morning conveyed its Colorado City mill to the General Metals Company of New York, which has just been organized by Charles E. Finney, representing prominent eastern capitalists.

BOSTON, Aug. 27.—The reorganization of the Norcross Brothers Company, which recently assigned with liabilities of $2,000,000, was today assented to by Judge Brown after a hearing in the United States circuit court, the assets to be transferred from the receivers to the reorganization committee.

Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—A slightly stronger feeling is evident throughout the dry goods trade as the result of an increasing scarcity in popular lines. Buyers are not inclined to buy ahead, not caring to obligate themselves for anything more than is absolutely necessary, nor any sooner than possible. Predictions are frequent of a famine in cotton goods before September is over.

CANADA'S GREAT FAIR.
Toronto, Ontario, August 27th to September 12th.

The Pennsylvania railroad will sell each Tuesday during September, 15-day excursion tickets, Pittsburgh to Niagara Falls and return, at rate of $7.45; and to Toronto and return, at rate of $8.90.

Trains leave Union station at 9 a. m. and 11 p. m., eastern standard time. Pullman service on all through trains.

DIAMOND STREET REALTY SALE

Property in Tunnel Street Sold at Nice Advance Over Former Purchase.

RACE STREET HOUSES BOUGHT

Third Avenue Dwelling Changed Hands. Greenfield Avenue Lot to Be Improved—Store Building Will Be Erected at Trafford City.

A downtown sale of importance reported yesterday was the transfer from H. C. Frick to A. W. Mellon of the property known as Nos. 320, 322, 324 and 326 Diamond street, on the South side of that thoroughfare, for a price said to be about $300,000, or $5,000 a front foot. The plot measures 60x120½ feet, and adjoins a lot 30x112 feet already owned by Mr. Mellon just east of the block now transferred. There are three two-story brick business buildings on the lots. The rear of the property touches the Vandergrift building.

T. W. Nevin and L. A. Clarke have sold to Westhead and Evans an improved property in Tunnel street, near Fifth avenue, for $35,000. The lot measures 40x80 feet, on which stand two brick buildings known as Nos. 55 and 57 Tunnel street. This is the same property that was transferred from P. J. Byrne to the sellers in the present transaction for $20,000 early this year, and is an indication of the rise in values in that section.

Dwelling Houses Transferred.

The Jane Porter property, No. 513 Third avenue, on the north side of that thoroughfare, has been sold for $25,000. The property consists of a three-story brick dwelling house, lot measuring 24x86 feet.

George W. Mellott of Wilkinsburg has sold to A. Edwin Gregg two improved lots, each measuring 30x93 feet, one on the north side and one on the south side of Race street, Twenty-first ward, for $14,000.

A. D. Ross has sold to Edwin B. and Charles C. Ross an improved lot 25x110 feet, on the north side of Penn avenue, near Winebiddle avenue, Twentieth ward, for $7,500.

James Hamilton has sold to Alex. D. Ross an improved lot 30x160 feet, on the west side of Euclid avenue, near Hays street, Nineteenth ward, for $8,000.

William S. Mack has sold to John Blackadore an improved lot, 40x126 feet, on the north side of Franklin street, near Mohler street, Thirty-seventh ward, for $5,750.

Apartment House Sold.

Barr Bros. & Co. sold for Valentine Lang to S. Shamberger, a three-story apartment house, lot 30x90 feet, in Colwell street, near Vine street, for $11,500 cash.

George Yorty of the Liberty Real Estate Trust Company sold for Ellen V. Burkie to Howard M. Smith, three brick dwellings of 5 rooms each, lot 50x100 feet, in Lincoln avenue, corner of Vassar street, for $5,200.

Ernestine Glockler sold to Michael Szuchy an improved lot, 23x47 feet, on the south side of Tustin street, near Short alley, Fourteenth ward, for $2,575.

The Real Estate Trust Company sold for Thomas Oberbecker to James Hays a lot measuring 36x80 feet, at the northwest corner of Greenfield avenue and Coleman street, Twenty-second ward, for $1,300. The owner will improve it with a two-story brick store and dwelling.

The Real Estate Trust Company sold for F. J. and J. S. Lanahan to Aaron Marcus, lot No. 425, measuring 22x101 feet, in Cavitt avenue, Trafford City, for $1,200. The purchaser will erect a three-story business building on the lot.

Perhaps affected somewhat by the cooler weather conditions which prevailed yesterday, real estate dealers talked much more enthusiastically of business than they have done for some time. Several deals were consummated, while a number of small sales were quickly made. There is increasing interest in property and things are commencing to pick up in various parts of the city. Over in Allegheny there are several transactions under way which give promise of early consummation, and it looks as though there would be considerable activity in that section. Several sales have been reported from there recently, and others are just about ready to close.

Building permits issued in Allegheny yesterday were as follows: To the Reformed Church of the Ascension, one-story brick church on Termon avenue, near Massachusetts avenue, Eleventh ward, to cost $18,500; to the James McClurg Company, brick addition to the six-story cracker bakery at the corner of Martin and Rebecca streets, to cost $8,000.

MILLFEED PRICES TAKE HIGHER RANGE

Raw Sugar Advances and Refined Is Firm—Lima Bean Quotations Decline.

Buyers are now hunting for supplies of millfeed, and, as a consequence, prices are very firm, and growing stronger. Output at mills has been greatly reduced on account of the scarcity of cash wheat, and this has caused a tightening up of the market and a much higher range of quotations. On 'change yesterday $22 25 was bid for No. 2 white middlings, but sellers held firm at $22 50. Brown middlings are up in proportion, and bran is firm at advanced figures. Hay maintains its former position, but there has been no further change in quotations, and oats are as last quoted. Corn is very strong, some sellers refusing to take less than 65c for No. 2 yellow ear. While there is never much market for wheat here, some selling has been done in the last few days at figures quoted.

Flour continues to hold firm, and dealers are refusing all offers below listed prices. Until there is an increase in wheat supplies there is not likely to be any easier flour market, and jobbers maintain that they expect to see a higher range rule for some time than prevailed at this time last year. Sugar is very firm, demand increasing, and refiners talking of higher quotations to come. There has been a higher tendency in the raw market for several weeks, which was emphasized yesterday by a further advance of a sixteenth. Except for the fact that demand has not been up to the average during the month of August it is more than likely refined sugar would have been higher before this, and, with a continuance of large demand, it is altogether probable refiners will seize the opportunity to send prices to a higher range.

Produce trade continues dull, and prices are easy, being frequently shaded. There will be a car of Rocky Ford cantaloupes in today, and it is likely prices will rule at $4 00@4 50. Watermelons are doing well, demand keeping up to a satisfactory degree of activity, largely on account of the superior quality of the melons arriving this season. One carload came in yesterday containing 500 watermelons, of which the average weight was 65 pounds. Apples are easy at quotations, while plums and huckleberries are unchanged. Grapes are in light supply and prices are as last quoted. Potatoes are plentiful and weak. Celery is easy with prices away down, and egg plant is in heavy supply, with quotations lower. Lima beans are here in large quantities, and are not in much demand, prices having gone much lower. California tokay grapes are offering at $2 25 per box.

But few fresh eggs are coming in now, as moulting season keeps the chickens from laying, and supplies are hard to gather. Prices are firm as quoted and would be higher except for the lightness of demand. Butter is plentiful and easy at quotations, while cheese is holding its own, but is not in so great demand as it was several weeks ago.

Chickens are not coming in so freely as they did a month ago, the lower range of prices now ruling not being tempting to shippers. All poultry quotations are unchanged.

WHEAT, CORN AND OATS HIGHER IN CHICAGO PIT

Grain Prices Showed Considerable Improvement With Provisions Irregular.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Weather advices, reports of damage to crops in Nebraska, strong inside markets and cables all made for an extremely strong wheat market and but for the great amount of long wheat that came out a much larger advance would have been recorded. September at the opening showed an advance of ⅛@⅜c to ⅝@¾c at 81c to 81⅜c, selling quickly to 81½c, while December touched 82c. The selling then became of such influential character that prices broke to 80⅛c and 82⅛c, respectively. Near the close, however, the selling ceased and a firmer feeling became apparent, carrying prices back to 81⅛c for September, a gain of ⅜@½c and 82⅜c for December, ⅝@¾c over yesterday's close. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 224 cars, which with local receipts of 61 cars, 12 of contract grade, made a total for the three points of 285 cars, against 310 last week and 505 a year ago.

Part of the early strength in corn was due to sympathy with wheat. Uncertainty as to the effect of the heavy rains west and fears of cold weather to follow were also influential factors. Timid shorts covered freely and held prices at a good advance for a time, but when wheat weakened, corn prices eased off and the loss was but partially regained at the close. September finished ⅛c higher at 51c after ranging between 50⅞c and 51⅛c. December sold from 51⅜c down to 51⅛c, closing with a gain of ⅛@¼c, at 51¼@51⅜c. Commission houses led the buying. The close was steady. Local receipts were 211 cars, 22 of contract grade.

The oats market was governed almost entirely by the action of wheat prices, early prices being the best. Local traders continue to sell but more moderately and toward the close unfavorable weather reports created a feeling of renewed strength, final prices being ⅛@¼c higher for September, at 34⅛c, with a range of 33⅝c to 34¼c, while December was unchanged at 36⅛c. Local receipts were 149 cars.

Weaker hog market caused earlier provision prices as a rule, although there was some early strength on shorts covering on lard, which did not entirely desert that product. Offerings were free and the close showed September pork down 15c at $12 50, with lard 5c higher at $8 25, and ribs 7½c lower at $7 60.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 105 cars; corn, 335 cars; oats, 160 cars; hogs, 18,000 head.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

J. J. [illegible] of Calumet has returned from a visit to the Red Jacket and [illegible] property in the Warren district of Arizona. He believes that a number of the development companies in that region have excellent prospects and that they will make good in time.

A Butte dispatch says: When Assessor Levengood of Deer Lodge county made up his assessments he raised the valuation of all the Amalgamated properties many millions of dollars. The company's representatives claimed that the increase was unreasonable, and that it had been made maliciously. They persuaded the county commissioners to reduce the valuation and a reduction of more than $[illegible] was granted on the new smelter and other properties owned by the company in Anaconda.

The War Eagle and Centre Star companies of Rossland camp have decided to erect a mill with 200 tons capacity.

Word has been received from Wardner that the big stope on the O. K. mine has been reached on the 400-foot level and that drifting on the ore body had commenced with good results.

According to a [illegible] dispatch the rich ore body in the breast of the Akron tunnel has not been over-estimated. As advanced upon, the vein shows great strength, being now of about seven feet average thickness and extending in all directions. Its latest exceptional development is that an assay from an average sample at Leadville smelters returns 5 per cent in gold, 200 ounces silver and 43 per cent lead.

It is stated that the Tonopah Company has been instrumental in making an agreement with the Southern Pacific for the building of a branch line of the Carson & Colorado road from Sodaville, a distance of 60 miles.

The annual report of the Camp Bird Company, for the first year of its operation of the Camp Bird mine, formerly owned by Thomas F. Walsh, shows a gross production during the past 12 months of $[illegible], and additional revenue of $[illegible], bringing the total to $[illegible]. Mining, milling, shipping, tramway, labor and general expenses of the company aggregated $[illegible], leaving a gross profit for the year of $[illegible].

TREASURY READY TO EXTEND HELP

Secretary Shaw Arranges to Deposit Money in Banks in Case of Emergency.

THE FINANCIERS ARE ANXIOUS

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.

Secretary of the Treasury Shaw will leave Washington on Saturday week for a trip through the west. The departure of the secretary from Washington at this time has led to inquiries at the treasury department as to the provisions contemplated by the department for relieving any money stringency that may occur.

It may be said with confidence that Secretary Shaw, before leaving Washington, will have taken every precaution to have any serious difficulty relieved immediately by making deposits of government money with the national banks. It is not believed at the treasury department that so much money will be needed by the west this year as last, but it is fully appreciated that a large amount of extra cash will be required.

How great an amount will be needed now, even in New York, bankers who will have to supply it cannot now say. Arrangements have been virtually completed at the treasury department for the deposit of $40,000,000 cash with the national banks, if so large an amount be needed. Just what security the department will ask for such deposits has not been announced.

The recently issued Philippine certificates, $3,000,000 of which were sold this week to a New York bond house, will be available for this purpose, and probably will be used. For the balance it is anticipated that the plan followed last fall of accepting certain state and city bonds will be adopted again this year.

The government still holds some $18,000,000 of state and city bonds deposited with it last year. These were to have been taken up by the banks by August 1, but the condition of the money market would not permit of the plan being carried out, so these bonds, with such as may be accepted in the next few weeks, will probably be allowed to remain in the treasury until congress enacts financial legislation.

CHARMS DID NOT MAKE HIM LOVE; WANTS MONEY

Girl in the Hill District Tires of Trying to Put Spell on Man With Love Potions, So She Sued the Voodoo Doctor.

Fortune-telling is the charge registered against Louis Colvert, an aged negro, of the rear of 19 Logan street. The "doctor," as he is called, was arrested yesterday on information made before Alderman James V. McMasters by Miss Marie Ballarde, a pretty young negress of the rear of No. 3 High street. Marie alleges the doctor secured $20 from her and promised to make a young man love her. All his spells and tokens failed, so she wants her money back.

According to the story she told Alderman McMasters yesterday, Marie became enamored of a tall and handsome young negro, the pride of the hill district. She would not tell his name. Although Marie is quite pretty she did not make much of a hit with the man. Then she resolved to try strategy and win the negro's love by craft.

"Dr." Colvert is well known on the hill as a voodoo man. Marie knew of him and went to see him. The doctor told her it was easy. Said he:

"Here, just you sprinkle some of this stuff on the ground and let him walk over it. He'll never stop loving you if once his feet are touched by this magic sand."

Marie took a couple of pounds of white, coarse powder and laid in wait for the man she loved.

One day she sighted him afar off coming her way and past her home. Marie rushed to her room, secured a couple of handfuls of the magic stuff and spread it over her pavement. Mr. Negro walked right past the house and quantities of the sand clung to the soles of his shoes. He never even noticed the stuff and was blithely unconscious of the anxious maiden watching him from the darkened parlor.

Days went by and still the negro did not evince any signs of coming Marie's way. After a week had elapsed she went back to the voodoo doctor and tearfully begged to know what was the matter. The doctor assured her that the charm was all right, but that it must be that the negro was resisting her by sheer will power. He gave her some brown tablets.

"This is the court of last resort," said he. "If you can slip one of these in his coffee there's nothing on earth to keep him from falling madly in love with you at once. I would not be surprized to see you married in a couple of days."

Marie slipped a tablet in a cup of coffee and eagerly watched the negro drink it. It never feazed him. He paid no more attention to Marie than he had before. Marie became indignant, went to the doctor and demanded her money back. He told her that she must be incapable of inspiring love, or else the man would surely have given in to the love potion. "However," he said, "try this," and handed her a box of small pills. Marie flung them in his face and indignantly left the house.

The girl determined upon revenge and she sought Alderman McMasters and entered information again Colvert, charging him with fortune-telling. The man was arrested yesterday and committed to jail in $300 bail. He was released later, bail being furnished, and will receive a hearing at court.

HIGH SCHOOL EXAMS.

Those Wanting Promotion and Those Who Missed Admission Get Another Chance.

Next Monday will be examination day at the high schools. Prof. Edward Rynearson, the director of the high schools, has arranged to have all the re-examinations, both for admission and for promotions, held on that day. A number of candidates for admission did not make the required average in June, but had a percentage that entitled them to another chance. All these will report at the Fifth Avenue High school.

There were some pupils who failed to pass the tests for promotion from one grade to another in the June examinations, and will also be re-examined. They will report at the school they have been attending—the Central, the South Side or the Fifth Avenue High school—Monday morning.

JEWISH BOLTERS ARE RECONCILED

They Agree to Support the British East Africa Colony Scheme.

GREETING SENT TO PALESTINE

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BASLE, Aug. 27.—Dr. Herzl had a long conference last night with the minority on the East Africa proposition, who left the hall. They declare their demonstration was intended simply as an expression of their unalterable loyalty to Palestine. They demand that no shekel or bank money be used for the expedition. This was agreed to.

A telegram received from the Jewish colony in Palestine to the Zionists received much applause. The conference replied, hoping the separation from them would not be long deferred. The Vienna central committee moved that the separate federation formed in New York be not recognized. It was decided that it is necessary for the federation in America to decide this question.

The treasurer's report shows the national fund to be £18,000. D. Wolffsohn reports that the Jewish colonial trust amounts to £300,000.

Dr. Herzl's visit to St. Petersburg probably will result in the withdrawal of the prohibition against the sale of the Zionist bank shares and the opening of an agency in Russia. Mr. Sokolow reports that arrangements have been made for the printing of the Hebrew cyclopedia in Russia. The money is provided by M. Turnow of Cape Town. The congress voted thanks to Turnow and the publishers and editors of the Jewish cyclopedia in New York.

CARNIVAL HAS HARD LUCK.

More Bad Weather and a Slim Attendance at Oakland.

The Oakland board of trade's carnival in Fifth avenue, opposite the Hotel Schenley, is experiencing wet times. The opening night was put off one day on account of the storm. The management had the grounds in pretty good shape and a big crowd attended the carnival Wednesday night. Rains set in again yesterday and the grounds are ankle deep in mud and water in many places. The performances were not going yesterday afternoon and the crowd last night was slim on account of the steady downpour.

The attractions which were under cover drew all the people from the midway. A large force of men will be put to work this morning to place the grounds in as good condition as possible.
